Frank H. Heker, the well-known artist and traveler, is reported to be slowly dying at his home in New York city from ulcer of the stomach for which he recently underwent an operation.

It is probable that the United States government will recognize the legality of President Castro's decree closing a number of ports in Venezuela in the possession of the insurgents. Technically this decree does not constitute a blockade, but practically the consequences of its enforcement would be similar to one.

The United States supreme court has granted the motion made by Solicitor General Hoyt, two weeks ago, to advance the case of the Northern Securities company. The court fixed December 14 next as the date for argument.

The United States supreme court has refused to grant a writ of habeas corpus in the case of Whitaker Wright, the financial operator who is in custody in New York, awaiting extradition on charges made in England.

Major General Alexander McCook, U. S. A., retired, was stricken with apoplexy at Dayton Saturday and is now in that city in a critical condition.

As result of flood Kansas City is without light or fire protection, almost without railway transportation facilities and threatened with scarcity of provisions.

Most distressing feature of the situation in Topeka is the probability of an epidemic of contagious diseases.

Cyclone at Gainesville, Georgia, killed at least 100 people and injured 150 more.

Official dispatches to the postoffice department report that the floods have wrought havoc to the mail service in southern Iowa, Nebraska and in the neighborhood of Kansas City.

SCARCITY OF PROVISIONS FEARED IN KANSAS CITY

By Associated Press.

Kansas City, June 1.—Merchants consider the food situation alarming. Their supply is limited to two or three days in everything except canned goods.

Doubtless much of the wholesale supply will have been destroyed and no provisions can be brought until railroad communication is re-established. Butchers have only a limited amount of fresh meat on hand and a few hams and a box of bacon. Indications are that the supply will not last after tomorrow. None can be bought from the packing houses. An attempt to prevent a meat shortage will be made by sending a steamboat up to the broken Milwaukee bridge to which a supply of fresh meat will be brought.

The coal situation is no less alarming than the question of food. At 11 o'clock this morning prices for many staple articles of food began rising. Potatoes were sold last week at 75 cents a bushel and were offered at $1.50 today. The advance was gradually increased as the customers became more numerous. Sunday eggs sold in case lots at 13½ cents per dozen. This morning the price jumped quickly to 25 cents a dozen in the wholesale way. Stores up town raised the price to 40 cents a dozen. This morning there were about 100 cases of eggs in the

FATAL ACCIDENT AT PUEBLO STEEL WORKS

Three Workmen Burned by Sudden ... at Base of Furnace.

By Associated Press.

Pueblo, Colo., June 1.—While a gang of laborers was digging a trench near one of the blast furnaces at the Colorado Fuel and Iron company's steel works this evening a "bosh" or vent at the base of the furnace opened without warning and molten iron and blazing gas came pouring out upon them. A number were borne down by the weight of the fiery material amid a cloud of hissing steam and smoke. Three of the men were literally cooked, their clothes burned off and skin so blistered that they are unrecognizable. The horrified workmen pulled them out as quickly as possible and rolled them in a muddy pool near-by. They were then hurried to the hospital but are suffering agonies and the doctors say they will die shortly.

The men are Austrians named Mila Zizaich, Joe Zizaich and Ella Karabanloch. The aged father of the last named is in hysterics with grief.

SUPREME COURT DECISION FAVORS TELEGRAPH COMPANY

By Associated Press.

Washington, June 1.—The case of the Atlantic & Pacific Telegraphic company, practically the Western Union Telegraph company, against the city of Philadelphia, involving the taxation of telegraph companies' wires and poles by the city government was decided by the United States supreme court today in favor of the telegraph company.

The lower court's decision was reversed on the ground that the court took from the jury the power of saying what would have been a rental tax. Justice Brewer said that there was no question as to the right of the municipality to legislate for a tax of this character but that it did not follow from this fact that a municipality is not subject to any restraint in such charges. In this case, he said, the cost of the main annual fee of the telegraph lines was less than one half the charge made by the city for supervision alone and he added that the testimony in the case indicated that the city had undertaken by the imposition of an unreasonable tax to force the telegraph company to put its wires underground.

"We do not say," he said, "that a city has not by virtue of its police powers authority to compel the removal from poles to conduits but it may be questionable whether a city can seek the same results by an excessive and unreasonable charge on overhead wires."

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT OFFERS FEDERAL AID

By Associated Press.

Topeka, Kas., June 1.—President Roosevelt telegraphed today from Cheyenne to Governor Bailey offering the assistance of the federal authorities, if needed, as follows:

"Cheyenne, Wyo., June 1.—Hon. J. W. Bailey, Topeka, Kas.: Am inexpressibly shocked at reports of dreadful calamity that has befallen Topeka. If there is anything the federal authorities can do, of course let me know. Theodore Roosevelt."

The message reached the governor at 11 o'clock this morning.

COMPLETE PROSTRATION OF RAILWAY TRAFFIC

By Associated Press.

Kansas City, June 1.—Never in the history of the west has there been as complete prostration of railway traffic as exists at the present time in the west, south and north of Kansas City. The approaches to the bridge of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul at Sheffield, 10 miles east of Kansas City, went down this morning, although the bridge proper is intact and is high enough to stand any possible stage of water.

The fall of the approaches to this bridge leaves the Santa Fe bridge at Sibley, 20 miles from here, the only structure of the kind still standing.

At the office of the Santa Fe it was stated this morning that one train had left for the west.

The Wabash, for the time, is out of business. The Union Pacific has abandoned all efforts to run trains west.

The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy ran its train out for Chicago at 9:30 this morning. Another train over this road came in from Chicago during the night and it is expected to send out another tonight. No trains went west.

The Missouri, Kansas & Texas is operating the usual number of trains.

The Rock Island officials reported no traffic in that direction. The Chicago Great Western has had no trains for two days and sees no prospects of any.

The Chicago & Alton ran trains out of Independence, Mo., last night with Kansas City passengers.

TWENTY THOUSAND PEOPLE HOMELESS BY FLOOD AT KANSAS CITY, KANSAS

Kansas City, Missouri, Is Without Light, Without Fire Protection and Almost Without Railroad Transportation—About Fifty Fatalities.

List of Dead in Topeka at Present Does Not Exceed 35—Greater Danger Which Threatens the City at Present Is Epidemic of Diseases.

By Associated Press.

Kansas City, June 1.—With gas and electric lights extinguished, the water works shut down and the city practically at the mercy of the first fire that shall break out, with railroad transportation feeble and uncertain, Kansas City may, if the waters do not recede within the next two or three days, be compelled to fight for her very life. And tonight the skies are dark and lowering, the rain is falling heavily, more stormy weather is sweeping up from the west and the insatiable river is holding its own. It is practically stationary tonight but what the flood has it keeps and there is no certain promise of when it will recede. The stage tonight is 34.9 against 35 feet this morning. Chief Connor of the weather bureau, says that while the outlook was for continual rains it would necessitate a very heavy fall if the present high water mark is to continue and whether this will come or not is something he cannot tell.

The first authentic information from Kansas City, Kansas, was received tonight. In that district 20,000 people are homeless. A number which cannot be estimated have been drowned and the property loss has been heavy. The situation there is a parallel to the situation here, apparently no better and no worse. There is no great probability that there will be further loss of life if the river does not rise very suddenly.

It is likely that the number of fatalities in the city will approximate 50.

Down in the wholesale district people at dusk tonight were waving white cloths to attract attention. The condition of some of these is pitiable. They have been held prisoners for two days, threatened with death by drowning, at one time by fire and for the most part without food. Every effort is being made and they will all be saved tomorrow unless the water rises more and this seems improbable.

Final damage is about as great now as it is likely to become unless the water rises much higher than at present.

Tonight the city is in absolute darkness. There is not the glimmer of a gas jet or the glare of an electric light, the buildings which have their own electric light plants excepted. Steam for these is supplied from water hauled from the river. Power for the three street car lines that have resumed operations is furnished by water piped from a small stream in one of the valleys. In all the buildings in the city elevators have been discontinued, unless provision has been made for furnishing water.

The newspapers have been compelled to discontinue the use of their typesetting machines and because of lack of power are "sticking" type in the old way.

In the hotels, all of which are crowded to their utmost capacity, the most rigid orders are taken to prevent the waste of water.

TERRIBLE DESTRUCTION IN THE KAW VALLEY OF KANSAS

By Associated Press.

Manhattan, Kas., June 1.—Not since the Galveston flood has water created such terrible havoc and wrought terrible destruction of lives and property as has just been experienced in the Kaw valley of Kansas. The territory affected stretches from Brookville, Kas., to Kansas City, a distance of 200 miles, by from 13 to 15 miles in width. Almost the entire territory is submerged in water from one to 10 feet in depth. It is impossible to ascertain the number who have perished or are yet in danger. The loss to cattle, horses, barns, fences and crops will run into the millions.

Boatmen who have reached here report many persons missing. Probably 50 persons were drowned in the country around here. Manhattan is in the very center of the flood's fury, the Blue river from the north and the Kansas river from the west, which carries the waters from the Republican, Solomon, Saline and Smoky rivers, besides several large creeks, meet at the eastern edge of the city.

Ten miles of water has surrounded Manhattan in every direction. The high railroad banks alone have saved the city from being completely submerged and possibly entirely swept away.

Rain has descended here almost steadily since Thursday. To add to the calamity, all telegraph and telephone wires are down and the city is in darkness, the electric plant being flooded with water.

Men, women and children have been carried in boats and wagons to the hills. Those who were unable to secure transportation waded through water waist deep. Over 1,500 people are housed in the Kansas Agricultural college buildings. Four births were reported to have occurred during the night, one of the little babies being discovered in the engine room. Every business store is filled with water from one to 10 feet deep. All persons are being taken good care of by the railroads.

WARNINGS OF FLOODS.

By Associated Press.

Victoria, B. C., June 1.—Fearing a recurrence of floods on the Fraser river this summer, the Dominion government has instructed local Meteorologist Reed to establish a series of lookout stations on the Fraser to give telegraphic warnings.

By Associated Press.

Topeka, Kas., June 1.—At 6 o'clock tonight the water in the Kansas river had gone down 14 inches and was falling at the rate of half an inch an hour. From Manhattan up to the river comes the report that the water there is slowly falling. At Wamego the same condition prevails and it is now reasonably certain that the waters have will steadily recede. At this time there are 34 known dead. The list of dead follows:

HENRY JORDAN, colored.
—— WARD.
—— GARRETT, 5-year-old son of Fireman C. H. Garrett.
—— KUTZE, teacher.
MRS. KUTZE.
LOUISE ZAAVEN.
—— STOREY.
Infant of Story.
MRS. JACKSON, widow, probably dead.
JOHN L. ADAMS.
MRS. IDA MONTGOMERY, probably dead.

Unidentified dead:

Unknown woman and child, drowned while crossing to Oakland.

Four seen to fall from trees by watchers at Sardou bridge, east approach.

Some of the Fatalities.

Mrs. Jackson, a widow, who lived at Thirteenth and Van Buren, was caught in her home without means of leaving and is thought to have been drowned.

Henry Tuckington, who lived in Oakland, was last seen hanging to the branches of a tree in the eastern portion of North Topeka Sunday morning. It is thought that he has been drowned.

John L. Adams, who lived on Madison street, near the woolen mill, is thought to have perished. With his family he had taken refuge on the roof of his home. Rescuers took the family out early but the boat was not large enough to accommodate him. When the party returned for him he had vanished.

Mrs. Ida Montgomery, who lived back of the Citizens bank on Kansas avenue, is reported drowned. She was in her room Sunday morning but the parties were unable to rescue her. There is no one there now.

Andrew Protzel, a market gardener living east of Oakland, is among the missing and his friends think he was drowned.

A man named Smith who manned one of the reserve boats on the north side last reported seeing seven bodies floating in the water on the second floor of a house in North Topeka. He did not know who had lived in the house. The Munsey family who were caught on the roof of their house Saturday night reported that they saw two bodies floating by this morning.

Carl Goff, Jr., son of the chief of police, saw a woman and a baby fall from a house roof just west of the Clark lumber yard while that structure was burning. The current swept them directly into the flames. A reporter for the Associated Press saw two men plunge from a house just south of the burning yards about the same time Saturday afternoon. They were swept out into the current and disappeared under the muddy water. An unknown man was taking a woman and baby across the river at Oakland in a skiff when it capsized. The woman and the child were drowned, the man saved his life by hanging to the boat.

Watchers on the east approach of the old Sardou avenue bridge yesterday morning who were using field glasses, reported seeing four persons fall from the trees on the other side and drop into the water. An unknown girl was taken from a house near Kansas avenue and Gordon street late Sunday night. She was chilled and numbed from exposure and died shortly after being taken into the Union Pacific hotel. Milton Holt saw a woman swept down the river and drowned Sunday morning.

Another woman who was about to be rescued, slipped from the roof before the boat could get to her and drowned.

The distress of the sufferers is being relieved. Those who are still in North Topeka are being supplied with food and they are in practically no danger unless it be from sickness.

A Serious Danger.

One of the most distressing features of the situation now is the possibility that there will be a spread of contagious diseases. People of all classes are huddled together in houses not large enough for them and on all sides they are surrounded by water. Doctors and medical relief cannot reach sufferers to any great extent. This afternoon a case of diphtheria was reported from the woolen mill in North Topeka where there are many children in addition to the adults. It is easy to see what may result from this. There is also a case or two of scarlet fever among the refugees on the north side. Hundreds of cases of measles are prevalent among the children and on account of the exposed condition of the patients, the disease will result fatally in many cases.

The possibility of an epidemic is the most serious thing the city must contend with. The physicians of the city, under the direction of the city health board are making heroic efforts to check the threatened calamity. In this work they are being well aided by the health boards of the state and country. An emergency board of health has been appointed by the mayor to co-operate with the city physician.

Provisions Are Scarce.

Provisions of all sorts are becoming scarce in Topeka. No freight trains have entered the city for several days and as large quantities of groceries were destroyed in North Topeka there will not be enough for the people to eat if this situation lasts much longer. It is charged that certain merchants have formed a combination for the purpose of controlling the prices of provisions but they deny the truth of the charge.

It is reported that a local commission

SETTLING THE MOSHER FILTER

United States Reduction and Refining Co. Wins Out In Controversy With Economic Gold Extraction Co.

Word was received yesterday at the offices of the United States Reduction and Refining company from Washington solicitors that the appeal on behalf of the Economic Gold Extraction company, growing out of the controversy over the Mosher patent filter, has been dismissed by the supreme court of the District of Columbia.

The appeal was made from the decision of the patent office and its dismissal by the supreme court ends all controversy over the patent and gives the United Reduction and Refining company a victory on all points involved. The patent will be issued without delay as the action of the supreme court exhausts all right of appeal or further contest.

The results of the decision will be most important, affecting the operation of all plants where the filter is used.

WHITTAKER WRIGHT MUST RETURN TO ENGLAND

By Associated Press.

Washington, June 1.—The United States supreme court today refused to grant a writ of habeas corpus in the case of Whittaker Wright, the financial promoter, who is in custody awaiting extradition on charges made in England.

The opinion affirms the decision of the United States circuit court for the southern district of New York which held that the crime alleged against Wright is an extraditable offense, under the terms of the treaty between the United States and Great Britain.

Wright is in the custody of Marshal Henkle, under an order of commitment issued by United States Commissioner Alexander of New York before whom the complaint was made by the British consul general at New York. The complaint charged Wright with having committed fraud in England while acting as a director of an English corporation.

Today's decision also sustains the lower court in its refusal to admit Wright to bail.

GAINESVILLE, GEORGIA, WAS STRUCK BY CYCLONE AND A HUNDRED LIVES LOST

By Associated Press.

Gainesville, Ga., June 1.—Just after the noon hour the city was struck by a terrific cyclone, killing probably 100 persons, unroofing the City hotel, other large buildings and destroying the Gainesville cotton mills. The greatest loss of life is reported in the district of the cotton mills, where about 50 people are reported killed and scores injured. Eighteen persons were killed in the city between the center of the town and the railroad station, where four large stores were blown down. The storm had driven away many persons at work in the cotton mills when the cyclone struck. The mill was a three-story building. The first story was left standing, but badly wrecked. The second and third floors were completely demolished and the employes were caught under the wreckage and mangled. It is estimated that there are at least 75 bodies under the wreckage of the third floor, and it is not known how many persons on the second floor of the building were killed. The roof of the electric car barn was lifted and the building badly damaged. The railroad depot also suffered.

List of Casualties.

Among the dead are:

MRS. MARSHALL CAMP and child.
JACK MURPHY, aged 12, son of Widow Murphy.
HILAH JACKSON.
ETHEL LYLE.
ANNIE GARRETT.
CLAUDE SHEDD.

The wife and daughter of W. B. Sloan were fatally injured.

Among others injured are:

Mrs. Talley and daughter, badly hurt; Mrs. Jones, badly hurt; J. R. Logan, badly injured; Jamon Simpson, Maude Gordon, John Simpson, Annie Schubert, Ola Miller, Edward Skinner, Bessie Skinner, Mrs. Doc Clark, Mrs. J. B. Summerville, Alonzo Ford, Doc Stovall, Joe Schubert, M. Hill, Willie Boone, Perry Connol.

Nearly every employe in the Gainesville cotton mills was killed, including a large number of children.

The Southern depot was blown to pieces.

The Gainesville iron works were demolished and several people perished in the wreck.

The Gainesville cotton oil mills were blown down. The old Piedmont hotel, now used as a school and apartment house, was razed, and half a dozen or more people were killed in it. The Richmond hotel was wrecked and several perished along with it. One hundred and twenty-five cottages, a school house and a church were blown away in the negro section of the city.

Five brick stores on the main street of Gainesville were swept away. In all, 200 buildings were demolished here.

The tornado went from Gainesville to New Holland and it is believed many people are killed there.

The tornado that hit the town below the Southern railway depot. It dropped almost unnoticed and before anyone realized what was happening it had ripped down brick buildings, frame houses, churches and school buildings as if they were structures of paper. One of the first large buildings to fall was the Gainesville cotton mill, a three-story structure. The third and second stories were shaved off smoothly and it is believed every person at work in them perished. About 600 were working in them at the time but a great number of them were in the lower story and escaped. In the five brick buildings on the main street about 18 persons were killed, most of them employes in stores. A fire has started in this pile of wreckage and the fire department is unable to get to it because of the obstructions in the street. All the stores in the business section that were not hit, closed their doors and every male citizen who could lend a hand promptly joined in the work of rescue. This work is now going on and the piles of dead in the path of the storm are being identified and given to relatives as rapidly as possible.

The tornado tore down all the wires leading into Gainesville except those of the Bell Telephone company. The wires are now being used by the survivors to communicate with the outside world.

LOCAL MEN ACQUIRE THE DE LA MAR-WALL COPPER MINES—BIG UTAH INTERESTS

Announcement was made yesterday of the closing of the big deal the United States Reduction & Refining company has been negotiating for the famous Wall properties in Utah. A corporation to take over the property and to operate it on the extensive plans now formulated will be organized under the laws of Utah. The DeLaMar-Wall properties change hands and the United ...pany will be: "R. A. F. Penrose, Jr., president; C. M. MacNeill, vice president; D. C. Jackling, manager; Spencer Penrose, secretary-treasurer. These four gentlemen will constitute the board of directors with the addition of C. L. Tutt and J. D. Hawkins.

The property is a low grade copper proposition embracing 400 acres. Mining is done by steam shovel. The purchase is made after an examination ex-

COOK COUNTY ELECTIONS CARRIED BY DEMOCRATS

By Associated Press.

Chicago, June 1.—Out of the 15 candidates voted for in the judicial election in Cook county today the Democrats elected 11 and the Republicans four. A light vote was cast owing to the wet weather and straight tickets were few and far between. Among the defeated Republicans were Judge Elbridge Hanecy, a close friend of Congressman Lorimer, the Republican leader in Cook county.

CONDITIONS AT DES MOINES ARE RESUMING THE NORMAL

GRADUATING CLASS [illegible] RECEIVE DIPLOMAS

The governor of the state placed in the hands of five white-gowned young women, graduates of the State School for the Deaf and the Blind, sealed and ribbon-bedecked diplomas. The five blushing girls with outstretched hands which were, like those of the bands of their sisters during these June days, stained with the fragrance of roses and those other blossoms always found ...ever, that made it different, radically so, from other commencements. This was that during all the gayety there was a subdued chord, an almost unconscious tightening of the heart of the hundreds of spectators. The five young women reaching for their diplomas and facing the threshold leading to the duties and cares of life, were the only ones who could not see and could not share completely in their own commencement-school building. Fully 1,000 persons came to the school, but as 600 is the capacity of the hall when crowded, hundreds made their way back to the city disappointed.

The hall was decorated in the class colors, green and white, and the large room was fragrant with the scent of many flowers.

Governor Peabody came from Denver during the afternoon to attend the exercises and present the diplomas. With him on the dais were Superintendent Argo, Mrs. M. S. McDonald of Pueblo, secretary of the board; Members Lee R. Gotlieb of Trinidad, West of Durango, J. F. Humphrey of Colorado Springs, W. G. Ries, president of the board, Cripple Creek; W. C. Jones of Colorado Springs, formerly a member of the board; Rev. Dr. Brown of the Christian church, Colorado Springs; H. R. Chapman, head teacher of the blind, and the graduates, gowned in white and surrounded by masses of bloom.

Parents and Friends.

Immediately in front of the platform were parents and friends of the graduates, many of whom had come from long distances. Among the parents were Mrs. Cheatley of Central City, mother of Miss Pauline Cheatley; Mrs. Cole of Arvada, a sister of Miss Cheatley; Mrs. Herpich, mother of Miss Anna E. Herpich of Denver; the Misses Herpich; Mrs. Brose of Fort Collins, mother of Miss Clara M. Brose; Mrs. Fegan of Boulder, mother of Miss Rose Fegan; Mr. and Mrs. Coe of Stonewall, Colo., the parents of Miss Eliska Coe. There were other relatives and friends who had come from Boulder, Fort Collins, Denver and other places. The audience, many of them women, gowned in soft fluffy summer wear, in the flower decorated room, made one of the fairest commencement day pictures ever seen in Colorado Springs.

Rev. Dr. Brown of the Christian church gave the prayer, in which he referred to the opportunities made possible by a generous state at the institution. The orchestra, of violins and piano, trained by Professor Dietrich and composed of the blind, rendered in spirited style, "Paroles D'Amour," Op. 41, by Tolani. A delicate little act, which elicited applause, came from the parents, as members of the families of the graduates advanced to the platform and presented roses, carnations and other ribbon-tied floral tributes to the white-gowned young women.

"The Qualities That Win."

Miss Rose Fegan read an essay on "The Qualities That Win." This was really the salutatory. Miss Fegan welcomed the guests and extended greeting to members of the board, the superintendent and the faculty, whom she characterized as "You have ministered so faithfully to our physical, spiritual and mental needs. Happy, thrice happy, are those whose noble endeavors have ever led us onward and upward and whose lives will be an inspiration for all time to come." She continued:

"The question today for every graduate is not what shall he do to earn a living in the easiest and most pleasing method possible, but what shall he do to make the most out of life."

She spoke of the character of Washington and of what he owed to his mother, who emphasized as the tenets of his manhood, obedience, diligence and truth. The essayist took these three points as the qualities which bring success.

Miss Fegan was followed by Miss Anna Herpich of Denver. Miss Herpich's essay was entitled "Our Silent Friends." She discussed books and the question of companionship with great volumes paying tribute to their faithful friendship and characterizing them as wholesome counselors, cheerful companions and perpetual comforters. She said in part:

"How delightful are the memories of the coming to us of these helpful friends

GRADUATION AT SCHOOL FOR MUTE AND BLIND.

ONE of the most interesting of the several graduation exercises which take place annually in Colorado Springs is that of the State School for Mute and Blind. To one who has never visited the school these events are of the deepest interest. They demonstrate in a very striking manner just what the institution is doing for those who are unfortunately bereft of one or more faculties.

One cannot witness a graduation without feeling deeply two things: First, thankfulness that he is still endowed with sight and hearing and speech; and, second, a feeling of gratitude that science and ingenuity and patience have been able to do so much for the deaf and blind. As one sees the miracles that these pupils are able to perform, despite such serious handicaps, he cannot but marvel and wonder and rejoice that the state has taken it upon itself to do this great and noble work.

Pupils who might under ordinary circumstances be able to do little or nothing to help themselves are taught to read and write, play the piano and other musical instruments and to do the manual labor attached to many trades and vocations. By the state's aid they recover from a condition of helplessness to one of usefulness to themselves and to others and often become self-supporting.

Hence it is that a visit to this school is always a revelation to those who have never before visited such an institution. It would be a good thing, therefore, if every citizen of Colorado could find the time to go to the school and witness the splendid work that is being done there.

WHY NOT TELEPHONES.

POSSIBLY a great many people have reflected upon the curious circumstance that United States post-offices rarely have that modern, time-saving invention, the telephone. Many a man has doubtless wished to call up the postoffice upon some matter of business, but has never been able to do so. It means a trip to the office or a wait for the postman.

There are many legitimate questions which might be asked of a postoffice, over a telephone. There are probably two reasons why the instruments are not installed. The first of these is that Uncle Sam makes no provision for the payment of the service; and, second, postoffice officials do not care to be bothered and are in a position to be independent. Nevertheless, 'phones have proved useful and serviceable in a number of offices throughout the country, and the department has recently set the seal of its approval upon them.

The first assistant postmaster general has answered a query in the following language:

> "There is no objection, if the postmaster is sure that the person making such inquiry has authority to get the information asked for. A postmaster answers such an inquiry on his own responsibility, and therefore should exercise discretion. I appreciate the conditions, and can see the great benefits farmers derive through being able to communicate with the postmasters by telephone. The department has no desire to interpose an objection."

It would seem as though the government ought to be willing to install telephones in the larger offices in order that the public might take advantage of this greatly needed convenience.

THE NOISELESS FOURTH.

A NUMBER of eastern towns are making preparations for what they call a "noiseless Fourth of July." The idea is to do away with the dynamite and the cannon and the noisier forms of expressing one's patriotism, and make the day just as jubilant and just as enthusiastic, but in a quieter and more sensible way.

Many communities have already adopted regulations prohibiting the exploding of firecrackers, cannon crackers and similar preparations within the city limits. While we would not do a solitary thing to abate the expression of real patriotism on the Fourth of July, it does seem as if the noisy feature of it was being carried to excess in these latter days. Some especially fiendish and nerve-racking contrivances have come into being in the last two or three years. A person walking along the sidewalk in comparative content is suddenly assailed with a terrific report right at his feet through a device in the shape of a cane with a cap in its end which is made to explode with great force.

And even on the street cars one is not secure, for in the middle of nearly every block young America has succeeded in planting on the track some noisy cartridges which explode with report after report like the discharge of a score of rifles.

It does seem in the interests of that large portion of the community who are equally patriotic, but who unfortunately have a few nerves left, that the noise nuisance should be at least minimized.

Pike's Peak helps make Colorado Springs famous, and the Garden of the Gods has somewhat to do with it, but after all a first-class baseball team is an advertisement that reaches many people who never hear of our scenic wonders. Its fame has traveled to far-off Boston, for the Herald of that place carries this paragraph: "Colorado Springs has won 17 out of 21 games." Little, but fraught with great meaning. It will cause many an inquiring fan to say: "Colorado Springs! Where's that? Oh, yes, out in Colorado! Well, well! That's great ball playing, sure enough!"

The Rock Island has just completed its preparation of summer newspaper advertising with respect to Colorado. This advertising consists of a series of 20 two-column and three-column cuts attractively describing the advantages of Colorado as a summer resort. Nearly every phase of out-door life in this state is presented, camping, mountain climbing, shooting, fishing, cool breezes, pure water, and last, but not least, the pleasures of the dance at the summer hotels in Manitou. It is a very attractive line of advertising, and speaks volumes for the enterprise of this railroad.

Rhode Island has been suffering severely of late on account of a tarnished reputation for morality, and her good name seems to have been damaged a trifle more than ever by a four-minute divorce which was granted the other day.

THE ONLY MOSQUITOES IN TOWN.

IT IS amusing as well as pathetic to see the petty nagging to which District Attorney Trowbridge is being subjected by a few disgruntled politicians whose henchmen have recently been exposed. Circuit Attorney Folk and District Attorney Jerome have in their larger spheres become inured to like experiences. It is the lot of every diligent and fearless prosecuting officer. He is not attacked on the grounds which are the real motives for the attack. That would never do. But his whole career, private and official, is ransacked in the hope of finding some blunder of oversight or technicality on which to assail him, and then the small but venomous insects settle about his head and manage to keep up a buzz, if nothing else. Men charged with the weight of these important duties pay small attention to such efforts at distraction and detraction.

The swarm settled about District Clerk Starrett's head for a moment, but there were too many Republicans in the immediate vicinity. So they are back again about Trowbridge. The fair-minded people of this district without exception approve his manly, straightforward and sensible course.

None of his predecessors took the trouble to have the vexed question as to the amount of their salaries adjudicated. They took the limit and said nothing about it. He conferred with the other district attorneys of the state, took advice of counsel and then arranged to test the case. He is OBEYING THE LAW, and not scouring the streets for curbstone opinions on the law. This is naturally exasperating to those who have volunteered their opinions without knowing or investigating the law.

When Blackmer and McAllister were retaining annual salaries of $5,000, there was just as much doubt—no more and no less—whether the salary should be $5,000 or $4,000, as there is now whether it should be $4,000 or $3,000. If Trowbridge's position is sustained by the court each of his Republican predecessors will owe the counties in the district $1,000 overpay for each year of service. If it is not sustained, Trowbridge will owe it. There is as much reason for calling upon one as upon the other to "disgorge," but what clamor has been raised by these enthusiasts against the Republicans who, during their full terms, drew for no greater service $1,000 annually in excess of what Trowbridge claims and is entitled to under the prevalent construction of law as it stands?

The Gazette will raise no such counter-cry. If it should be adjudged that the lawful salary through all these years has been and is $4,000, we have no doubt that Mr. Blackmer and Mr. McAllister will promptly pay over what they retained in excess of that amount, and if, on the other hand, it should be adjudged that $5,000 was and $3,000 is the salary of the district attorney in this district, Mr. Trowbridge will bow to the legislative will as thus construed, however unfair, and pay over the difference between the $4,000 he has retained and the $3,000 salary thus fixed.

But neither Blackmer, McAllister nor Trowbridge is expected by any reasoning man to prejudice his right to his lawful compensation for important public service by voluntarily paying over money that he claims and that nobody else claims. We have yet to hear of any demand upon any one of them by any treasurer or other official of this county. The popular uprising is confined to one story of one building, and does not fully pervade that.

Fourteen persons connected with the city treasurer's office in Chicago have died since January for causes said to be traceable to the sanitary conditions. Nevertheless, there is still a host of applicants who are willing to take the chances on proving immune. If it happened to be any office but a political one the same individuals could scarcely be hired to take it, but there is always a halo surrounding the possession of a job with a pull.

The story of Ryan, who is accused of having bribed Attorney Miller of the postoffice department into giving him a letter granting the use of the mails to the racing concerns, opens up a field for considerable speculation as to how far a scheme of this sort could be carried. Given a corruptible official, hundreds of concerns throughout the country would willingly pay for immunity in the transaction of their nefarious enterprises.

Adjutant General Sherman Bell has shown that he is possessed of the traditional gallantry of the military man by naming a new colonel in the person of Miss Jessie Peabody, the daughter of the governor. Colonel Peabody will undoubtedly prove herself worthy of the honor which has been thrust upon her and upon all necessary occasions will reflect credit upon herself and upon the military organization of which she is a part.

New York has, during the past week, made one startling discovery, and that is that the first foreigner to land on Manhattan and go into the fur business was Henry Hudson and not Hendrick Hudson. Moreover, he was an Englishman and not a Dutchman. This will be a severe blow to those eminent Hollanders who have long been felicitating themselves upon being descendants of the first families of New York.

Dr. Nicolas Murray Butler declares that President Roosevelt has made 250 speeches. This is about 100 above the actual total, but no doubt Dr. Butler has listened to the same sentiments on so many different occasions that he has concluded that it ought to number 250, if it doesn't.

So much advice has been given in the illustrated papers and magazines from self-made fathers to their sons, that it is rather gratifying to note that a new series is now being printed under the head of "Letters From a Son to His Self-Made Father."

It seems almost superfluous to suggest that the Milwaukee baseball team has been drowned. Until they wipe out that series of three defeats administered by Colorado Springs the Milwaukeeans have something to live for.

The Cheyenne preacher who selected the subject "Strenuousness" for his discourse on Sunday evidently intended that the president should not go to sleep under his ministrations.

The meeting of the real estate men to be held in Pueblo next week ought to prove an interesting and valuable occasion. If there is one thing that Colorado has in plenty and to sell, it is real estate.

The Washington weather bureau, in view of what has been happening in the last few days feels perfectly safe in sending out a flood warning in the Mississippi valley.

Colorado will willingly take a share of the rainfall from which Kansas is now suffering and will return thanks for it.

SHORT STORIES

Poor Harold.

"I don't know what to say, Harold," replied the lovely girl, after a long pause. "There are so many things to be considered. Did you ever care for anybody before you met me?"

"Never, Lucy," fervently responded the young man. "You are the first and only."

"Would you want me to go and live with your people?"

"No, we will have a little cottage of our own."

"You would be tired of me in less than a year."

"I wouldn't tire of you in a thousand years."

"Would you be willing to spend your evenings at home?"

"Every one."

"Men are such tyrants—and I've always been used to having my own way."

"You shall have your own way still."

"You will never tell me I must or I mustn't do anything?"

"Never."

"Always let me do just as I please?"

"Absolutely."

"Then I shall have to say no, Harold," the maiden said, tearfully. "I never could trust myself with such a husband as that."—(Chicago Tribune.

A Satorial Secret Unfolded.

"Do you see that I have made the right sleeve of this coat longer than the left?" asked a Fifth avenue tailor of me this afternoon, holding up a solemn-looking garment of broadcloth, and fondling the sleeves with a professional touch. "Queer, isn't it? This coat is for a minister, who is very energetic while in the pulpit. He has a habit of emphasizing the points of his discourse by waving his right arm continuously and pounding the pulpit at intervals. Well, that means that his sleeve will wrinkle up at least two inches. If I were to make his sleeve the same length as the left he would show two or three inches of white shirt all through his sermon and that would be awkward. Always when I make a coat for a clergyman I ask him whether I shall make his right sleeve longer than the left and nearly always he says yes. Kinks in all businesses, you know," added the tailor, with a placid smile, as he folded the minister's coat.—(New York Correspondence, Pittsburg Gazette.

Snub for the Rector.

The Rev. W. S. Rainsford, rector of St. George's, the noted New York church, told in Philadelphia on the day he preached the sermon that caused him to be charged with heresy—of a snub an old lady once gave him.

"I had the habit in my youth," said Dr. Rainsford, "of conditioning all my proposed actions with the phrase 'Deo volente,' or 'God willing,' or something of the sort. An aged woman, the head of an aristocratic family, invited me one morning to dine with her the following night.

"'I shall be delighted to dine with you, madam,' I said, 'if I am spared.'

"The terminal phrase seemed to displease her. Perhaps she thought she sniffed cant in it. She frowned and said:

The National Game.

The baseball fever is no respecter of persons. The broker with the high hat and the bank account and the barefooted boy stand side by side and eagerly await the next inning. But there is some little interest when it comes out that the fever that comes with the first game reaching the dignified ecclesiastic. But it does, and it sometimes goes very high.

One day last summer, when the leading teams were running close, a reporter called on Cardinal Gibbons to ask him some question regarding the pope's encyclical which had recently been published. The cardinal granted the interview and the reporter left the room. He was going down the steps when his eminence, leaning over the landing, called out:

"Have you heard today's score?"

"Yes," said the surprised reporter. "It was 2 to 3 in our favor."

"Good," said the cardinal, with a smile. "That puts us two points ahead."

The reporter didn't know, but he realized that the cardinal knew a great many things that he didn't know.—(New York Times.

The Barber Who Was King.

A queer, rambunctious gleam crept into the eyes of the barber with the long, low, rakish forehead, as he suddenly rested his razor hand while shaving the Adam's apple of the lean, nervous-looking man in the chair.

"I was King Louis XIV of France last night," said the barber, musingly, the razor still poised about an inch above the lean customer's Adam's apple.

The customer blinked and breathed hard. The shaved side of his face became nearly as white as the still-lathered other side.

"Wait a minute," he said, placing a shaking hand on the barber's shaving arm.

He sat up straight in the chair, with a wild look, and then made a bolt for the door.

"Wow!" he yelled, as he went. "What an escape! King Louis XIV! Bughouse! He wouldn't have done a thing to me!" And with the towel streaming in the breeze and one side of his face lathered he loped down the street.

The barber with the long, low, rakish forehead went to the door and stared after the galloping customer with amazement.

"Well, I'll be dad-binged!" muttered the barber. "Now, what kind o' cogs has that feller got in his conk? I was only tryin' to tell him that I was King Louis XIV at the barbers' masquerade ball last night, and look at him goin' after Salvator's mile record!"—(Washington Post.

Mr. Briggs' Busy Day.

Quite an amusing scene was caused this morning at the Northwestern station by J. L. Briggs, a traveling man from St. Louis, "the Sleepy City." After having caused great consternation among the bus and dray drivers in order that he might have his seven trunks transferred from the Central station; after having had the Cadwell & Cadwell bus team put on a dray, rushed over to the Central for his luggage, he hurried into the depot, had it checked and put on the train, the characteristics of St. Louis occurred. He sat down on a truck and dozed off and missed his train, but his baggage went on. Everyone around the depot looked pleasant as Briggs recited sections and paragraphs from sacred and profane history.—(Mason City, Iowa, Globe Gazette.

School Children's Exhibits [illegible] to Be Sent to World's Fair

The first material for the exhibit of the Colorado Springs public schools at the St. Louis exposition was received at the High school building yesterday. Superintendent Dietrich thinks the entire exhibit will be collected by Friday. The first articles are the product of the manual training department. Among them are samples of basket and raffia work from the Garfield school, woven articles from the Eighth Street school and miniature hammocks and doll houses from the Garfield. The literary part of the exhibit will be collected within the next few days. While only the best of the articles will be selected, it is believed that owing to the fact that the space that will be allowed will be very small, the local exhibit will have to be gone over several times in order that it may not be too large. The exhibit will be sent to Denver to be included in the general state educational exhibit. The standard of the work in the local school as shown in the products of the manual training department is very high and it is believed that they will be a credit to Colorado Springs.

COUNCIL DENIES APPLICATION OF CITIZENS COMPANY FOR FRANCHISE

"The ordinance committee has thoroughly investigated the matter of granting a franchise to the Citizens' Automatic Telephone company and we find that the ordinance before us does not provide for any compensation to the city; it provides no bond, conditioned that the plant will be constructed; it provides no bond, conditioned that the rates specified will not be increased, and it contains no clause giving the city a right to buy the plant and equipment, should it see fit. For these reasons we recommend that the ordinance do not pass."

The adoption of the above recommendation made by Chairman John Hill of the ordinance committee, by the city council last night, put an end to the question of an independent telephone company in Colorado Springs. The recommendation was adopted by a vote of 4 to 2, Aldermen A. M. Holden and J. C. St. John voting against it.

When the council was called to order, representatives of both the Citizens company and the Bell company were in attendance, and remained until the final vote was taken. In the discussion of the motion, Alderman A. L. Patton said: "I am in favor of the passage of this ordinance, but I will not cast my vote in favor of it unless it is provided that the matter shall be finally submitted to the people for their decision. I am not in favor of requiring a new company that agrees to furnish telephones at lower rates, to pay a commission to the city, when we do not require it of the older company. As the matter stands, however, I will vote for the adoption of the recommendation."

Chairman John Hill of the ordinance committee said: "I am not afraid to vote on the question at any time; I am opposed to granting this franchise under any circumstances. If the new company could buy out the old company, I would say all right, but I am opposed to two telephones in this city."

No further discussion was indulged in by the members of the council, and on motion, D. V. Donaldson, representing the Citizens company, was given the floor. He read an amendment to the ordinance, which had been offered at the caucus yesterday afternoon, providing that the franchise should be forfeited in case the rates should be raised, or the company should consolidate with any other company unless the same rates should remain in effect. Nothing was said by the representatives of the Bell company, and the question was put to vote without further discussion.

President St. John and Aldermen A. M. Holden voted against the adoption of the recommendation. Alderman R. J. Verner voted in favor of adoption. Mr. Verner was in the east for some weeks prior to the meeting, and made an investigation of the double telephone system in Pittsburg, Pa.

The officers of the Citizens company would say nothing after the adoption of the recommendation, except that they were disappointed at the vote. They would not say whether another attempt will be made to secure a franchise.

SUPT. HAWKINS SAYS WILL NOT DISCRIMINATE IN EMPLOYING CARPENTERS

A representative of the Building Trades council called yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock on Superintendent J. Dawson Hawkins of the Standard mill with the request that none but union men, men affiliated with the trades council, be employed in the construction work in progress at the mill. Superintendent Hawkins replied that there would be no discrimination between union and non-union men in the management and has been willing to employ both.

"Nothing further than this was requested," said Mr. Hawkins. "No notice of any action by the council was given, and no carpenters walked out. I do not know how many of the carpenters engaged on work at the mill at present are affiliated with the union. Should these union men go out, however, there will be no effect on the work."

Business Agent J. C. Gardner of Carpenters union No. 515, states that no action has been taken calling off the union carpenters, but that the move is not a sympathetic one with the Mill and Smeltermen's union. There are very few carpenters now employed at the mill.

TRUSTEES APPOINTED BY MAYOR HARRIS FOR CARNEGIE LIBRARY

Mayor Ira Harris submitted the names of the board of trustees of the Carnegie library to the city council last night. His appointments were approved, and the following board will have charge of the construction of the new library, and its future management:

Irving Powhert.	Mrs. E. M. Collins.
Horace G. Lunt.	G. C. Hewitt.
Miss Elsie Palmer.	W. P. Kinney.

Of the new board, three trustees were members of the old board. They are Horace G. Lunt, Miss Elsie Palmer and Mrs. E. M. Collins. After the organization of the new board the first step that will follow will be the meeting of the old library board and the deeding of the property of the library to the city. This will enable the new board to proceed with the carrying out of the plans for the construction of the Carnegie library.

The site has already been determined upon by the selection of the property donated by General William J. Palmer. The deeding of the property of the Colorado Springs Library association to the city will transfer the books of the old library to the new one and the next step will be the drawing of plans and specifications for the construction of the building. The plans when drawn will be submitted to Mr. Carnegie and the building will be erected largely according to his ideas. It is expected that the new board will organize within a short time and prepare for the work before it. An appropriation of $5,000 has been made by the city for the maintenance of the library and the purchase of new volumes and appropriation will be made yearly for the purpose of maintenance.

BIG FALL OF SNOW INCREASES WATER SUPPLY AT LAKE MORAINE

Fourteen inches of snow fell on the east slope of Pike's Peak and a heavier fall is reported on the west slope from the fall of Sunday. This heavy fall will do much toward relieving the fear that a scarcity of water will menace the city this summer.

It was reported at Lake Moraine yesterday that there was more water than in the corresponding period last year, and so far as the Pike's Peak watershed is concerned the opinion at the lake is that with judicious use of the water in the city there is nothing to fear. By means of the Strickler tunnel the yield on the west slope will be diverted to the reservoirs and the result of this one storm will fill the lake and the storage basins. The extreme cold at timber line and above following the first snow has had the effect of freezing the outer crust and the melting of the snow will be gradual. A vast amount of water will thus be secured for use during the early part of the summer.

It was a joke evidently, that started the belief around the city yesterday morning that Lake Moraine was sending innumerable bubbles to the surface, indicating a mysterious agitation. As the rumor spread, statements were made that the trouble with the lake was evidently due to a disturbance of the peak.

All kinds of predictions were made that the peak would be shaken by earthquake. There were numerous telephone inquiries to Lake Moraine and at the Summit house over the wire. At both these places the statements were laughed at, there being no foundation for the well-developed report. Lake Moraine had sent no bubbles to the placid, mirror-like surface of that body and on the peak, with the exception of the storm, everything was as peaceful as usual.

IMPORTANT MATTERS TO BE DISCUSSED

Horticultural Society Will Meet Tonight.

Improvement of Dorchester Park Planned—Proposed Monument for H. C. Harris.

The discussion of the immediate improvement of Dorchester park, the report of the committee in charge of the entries for the prizes to be offered for the best-kept residence grounds in the city, the sprinkling and irrigation of lawns, and the report of the committee on a memorial to the late H. C. Harris, who was president of the society, are among the matters to be considered by the members of the El Paso Horticultural society at its regular meeting this evening in the offices of Vice President W. W. Williamson. The meeting will be an important one and a full attendance is desired. The committee appointed a short time ago to look into the improvements necessary at Dorchester park consisting of W. W. Williamson, R. J. Coryell, C. S. Graigh and Edgar King will meet at 8 o'clock this morning at Dorchester park with R. J. Verner, chairman of the public grounds and building committee of the city council to decide on the improvements. R. J. Coryell of the committee has drawn up plans for these improvements based on the $1,000 appropriated by the city council.

It has been suggested by members of the society that the city employ a special policeman to look after violators of the sprinkling ordinance. It is claimed that there is plenty of water for sprinkling lawns out of the regular supply if people would not violate the ordinance and sprinkle out of hours. The water that is used for irrigating lawns, it is claimed, is unfit for the purpose, as it often contains so much sediment that it damages the grass.

The members of the society are unanimous in desiring the erection of a suitable monument to the memory of their late president, H. C. Harris, who died recently in New Mexico as the result of an accident, and it is probable that the matter will be fully discussed at the meeting this evening.

Professor Reed, who is in charge of the contest for the best kept residence grounds will make his report tonight. It is understood that the entry list is small.

PARENTS MAKE SUGGESTIONS [illegible] Ferris School [illegible]

A parents' meeting of the Ferris School association was held last evening in the school building on the corner of Poudre street. Principal W. R. Stark occupied the chair and conducted the meeting, which taking its old, an informal conversational form, gave rise to little suggestions of value to both teacher and parent.

Mr. Moore gave an interesting talk, taking as his subject the teaching of arithmetic. He advocated giving pupils something to do. More simplicity, the old methods not practical; more of the quantitative side of life should be presented to the children.

Equation of payment means nothing of much value to the pupils but the angle of 45 degree means something to them when they once fully understood. Teach children real application of the output of the mines in the state, a subject of vital interest to most of the Colorado Springs homes. Statistics of water supply, grades in railroads, election returns, tax tables, etc., afford material for practical ideas of value to be impressed by application of practical principles. Miss Bacon, Mr. Stark and others spoke upon this first subject and Miss Harter then talked of the place of language in the school curriculum. She pointed the assertion, observation leads to formulating of ideas by reading several interesting compositions written by pupils. Mr. Stark remarked that oral expression aids composition and culture and the plan of leading the pupils to talk in class was discussed. While it was difficult to start them it had been proved quite difficult to keep them to the subject of the lesson.

Miss Bacon reported upon the literature taught in the various groups in the school. It was evident from her talks that the instruction had been admirably divided and in a manner calculated to permanently fix the subject in the minds of the children.

PETERSON HAD NARROW ESCAPE

William Peterson, an employe of St. John & Barnes Plumbing company, narrowly missed being thrown from the first floor of the new county courthouse yesterday afternoon to the floor of the basement, 10 feet below. Peterson was at work adjusting some iron pipe in the elevator shaft. He was standing on a board thrown across the shaft, at the first floor and reaching up with the iron pipe to a fellow workman on the second floor, when the pipe struck the end of a live electric wire sticking out into the shaft. The contact doubled Peterson up into a knot, threw him against the side of the shaft and narrowly missed pitching him head foremost to the floor below. He caught hold of the grating on the side and held himself, but the fright from the shock and his narrow escape unnerved him for several minutes and for that time he was unable to go to work again. The man on the second floor twisted the wire to one side, removing any further danger and the pipe was finally adjusted.

CUT WITH A RAZOR BUT DIDN'T MIND IT

Tramp Picked Up in Railroad Yards at Colorado City, and Mysterious Wound Found on His Shoulder.

Mike Devitt, an old miner who was temporarily sojourning at the Midland yards in Colorado City, was picked up by the police last night in a state of intoxication, and upon examination it was found that he had received a bad wound with a razor or a similar sharp instrument. The cut was more than three inches long and was just back of the shoulder blade. The instrument had penetrated through the man's clothing and gashed the flesh about an inch deep, almost to the bone.

Devitt was taken to police headquarters where he was divested of his clothing and the wound given attention by Dr. C. S. Morrison, city physician. It took several stitches to close up the gash but Devitt made a number of jokes through it all and did not appear to suffer any pain. He was asked who cut him, and said: "I don't know, and if I did know I wouldn't tell."

The police picked up another man and brought him to headquarters where they searched him, finding a razor, but wrapped in such a manner as to allay the suspicion of the officers who thought he might have stabbed Devitt. When found he was asleep beside the track. Devitt carried his personal cards with him and was anxious to present them to the officers. His name was not given on the cards, but there was printed instead, "Please help along a poor, disabled miner," etc.

It is believed by the police that Devitt got mixed up in a brawl with hobos in the Midland yards and received the stab. He was searched but no money was found and no personal effects of any kind.

Mrs. Fairbanks tells how neglect of warning symptoms will soon prostrate a woman. She thinks woman's safeguard is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM: — Ignorance and neglect are the cause of untold female suffering, not only with the laws of health but with the chance of a cure. I did not heed the warnings of headaches, organic pains, and general weariness, until I was well nigh prostrated. I knew I had to do something. Happily I did the right thing. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound faithfully, according to directions, and was rewarded in a few weeks to find that my aches and pains disappeared, and I again felt the glow of health through my body. Since I have been well I have been more careful. I have also advised a number of my sick friends to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and they have never had reason to be sorry. Yours very truly, MRS. MAY FAIRBANKS, 216 South 7th St., Minneapolis, Minn." (Mrs. Fairbanks is one of the most successful and highest salaried traveling saleswomen in the West.)

When women are troubled with irregular, suppressed or painful menstruation, weakness, leucorrhoea, displacement or ulceration of the womb, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation of the ovaries, backache, bloating (or flatulence), general debility, indigestion, and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all-gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, blues, and hopelessness, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles. Refuse to buy any other medicine, for you need the best.

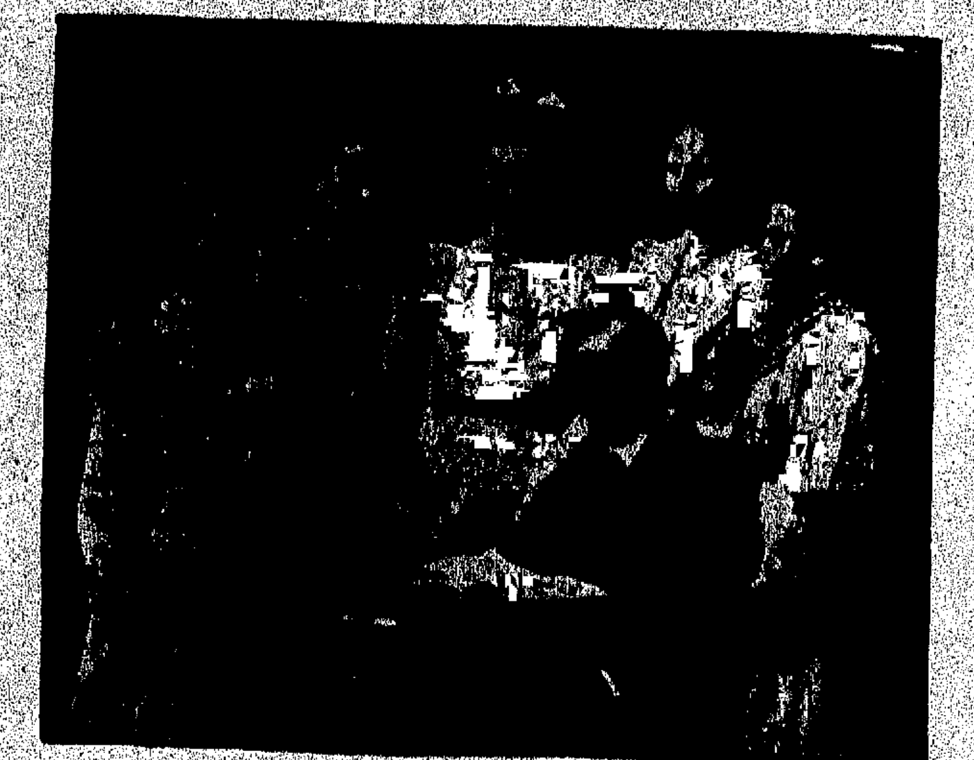

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM: — For over two years I suffered more than tongue can express with kidney and bladder trouble. My physician pronounced my trouble catarrh of the bladder, caused by displacement of the womb. I had a frequent desire to urinate, and it was very painful, and lumps of blood would pass with the urine. Also had backache very often.

"After writing to you, and receiving your reply to my letter, I followed your advice, and feel that you and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have cured me. The medicine drew my womb into its proper place, and then I was well. I never feel any pain now, and can do my house work with ease." — MRS. ALICE LAMON, Kincaid, Miss.

No other medicine for female ills in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

GRADUATES OF THE COLORADO SCHOOL FOR THE DEAF AND BLIND, WHO RECEIVED THEIR DIPLOMAS FROM GOVERNOR PEABODY LAST NIGHT.

Graduating Class Sends Its Deaf and Blind Receive Diplomas

Fort Collins was followed with close attention during the delivery of the essay, "The Education of the Blind." The young woman dwelt upon the necessity of the physical part being developed as well as the mental. "How thankful we ought to be for the fact that in the near future the institution is to have a gymnasium," she exclaimed. "Especially is physical development desired by the blind." She also emphasized the benefits derived from industrial training, and stated these benefits should go hand in hand with mental work. The essay contained a plea that some method should be arranged by which the blind could go to any of the large houses and receive the higher education. Much of the essay was devoted to making clear the crying need there is at present for more books for the blind printed in the "New York point." Miss Brose touched upon the musical part of education for the blind and developed clearly her line of reasoning that as the blind are no more gifted than other people in possession of all the senses they should be more carefully and more highly taught in order to permit them to successfully face the handicap in life from those who are physically perfect. She stated that when the blind show talent, and especially in music, they should be given every opportunity for developing that talent, not only in music, but in all other occupations.

"Wit and Humor."

Miss Eliska Coe, in her essay upon "Wit and Humor," touched upon the truth that Americans are taking life too seriously, and cleverly dissected the optimist and pessimist. The optimist, she said, meets the world with hopeful heart and cheerful disposition and sheds a helpful influence wherever he goes. She spoke of wit and humor and compared the two, saying that the person of humor is the man who always smoothes the pathways of life, and the world's greatest humorists have done more for humanity in innumerable ways than any of the philosophers or scientists. The result is seen in the helpful books they have written. Summing up was the paragraph: "The man who laughs and causes others to laugh is welcomed wherever he goes, and his influence is ever a source of happiness and enjoyment."

Ralph Davis of Denver gave a violin solo, "Air with Variations," Op. 8, by Fuchs. Miss Pauline Cheatley of Central City, had as her subject "Mastery." Among the qualities leading to mastery in the world, she said, is preparation, perseverance, intelligent observation; mastery does not come by accident. Some men take failure for a new starting point from which they begin with as much zeal or more so than they did in their first ambition. "The cry of the world today is not for the man who hath mastered the situation and thereby becomes the stumbling block to those who have been aiming at high ideals but for the man who makes the most of himself. If each individual would realize the great responsibility resting upon him many more would lead successful lives."

Her peroration was one of the prettiest bits of wording that has ever been heard at the commencement of the school.

What "Farewell" Means.

"Farewell, friends, is a word often lightly uttered and soon forgotten. But when it marks the completion of a chapter in life, the severing of many cherished ties, of the parting of many friends at once, it becomes a word of momentous meaning. It becomes, indeed, the word that makes us linger, but it does not prompt many other words. It is expressed in few. What goes without saying is better than what is said. After all what can be added to the old English word, Good-bye? Honorable members of the board, superintendent and members of the faculty, you are not sending us away empty handed but alone. We go laden with many happy memories of helpful school days, of measureless kindnesses received. Fortunate the institution that can speed its departing students so that with their good-bye they leave half their hearts behind."

Governor Peabody was introduced by Superintendent Argo. He thanked the governor for making it so that he could leave his office to come to the commencement. The superintendent referred to the visit of President Roosevelt to Colorado Springs and referred to the spirit that made everybody his friend. He excited much applause by referring to Governor Peabody as possessing the Roosevelt spirit. Governor Peabody spoke as follows:

THE ADDRESS BY GOVERNOR PEABODY

Governor Peabody said:

"Mr. President, members of the board of trustees, ladies and gentlemen, and the class of 1903: Speaking to a class of bright, intelligent boys and girls who are accustomed to converse one with another in a language entirely unknown to me, I am constrained to believe that what I may say at this time may not be fully understood or comprehended by my auditors. But be that as it may, I am glad to be with you upon this occasion and congratulate you upon the exemplifications of your practical and useful education.

"This school, its methods and course of instruction, is unique to me, never having witnessed anything like it before, and while you may possibly consider yourselves as unfortunate persons by being deprived of some of those senses which others possess and enjoy, yet I am confident you are to be congratulated upon having received through the medium of this institution a practical, everyday training, suitably fitting you to earn your own living and contribute your share to the well being of the community in which you may live. After all has been said and done concerning college students and graduates the greatest, most important and really the fundamental quality that will carry the boy or girl successfully through life is a well-grounded and clearly-defined character. No amount of learning or vast stores of financial responsibility can produce satisfactory results unless character of respectability is behind it. I am convinced that your institution here has been of such a clean, moral nature as to impress upon your minds the truthfulness of my word.

Benefits of School.

"You must realize that the full benefits to be derived from this school have not been yours to enjoy as during the past years the period has been one of establishment and while the officers have done for you all that was possible under existing conditions and circumstances, yet during such periods of building and reconstruction the progress must be necessarily slow, yet I am pleased to note that the means of imparting a thorough knowledge of the various trades and employments which will enable you to be profitable citizens has been most marked, and the future under the present able management will be far greater in improvement and accomplishment than has the past. The entire harmony which seems to prevail among the inmates of this school and between the instructors and the board of trustees is sufficient proof of the wise policy pursued and the advanced methods in vogue.

"The health, harmony and happiness so prevalent here as to be almost infectious, emphasizes with a force which is undeniable, that you are each and all to be congratulated upon the pleasant auspices of the occasion. I feel warranted in saying that this institution stands today equal to any similar institution in the world. Schools of this character are sometimes misconstrued or criticised for this thing or that, but I notice that almost invariably such criticism comes from those who have never visited the institution and are totally ignorant of its full scope and purpose. Intelligent criticism is invariably beneficial as thereby weak points are made known and strengthened and improved.

Taught by Experience.

"My experience in public schools has taught me that there are always present in the class room two distinct types of mental development—one is that type which always acts upon the spur of the moment and whatever he does is done unreflectively, without giving any thought or concern about consequences, but action has become a habit with him; he is always ready to jump to his feet or raise his hand with an incorrect answer. He has acted but he has not thought. The opposite type is the one who is slow and dull, he is not quick either to act or think, is often reserved if not actually sulky.

"To bring about success in both, the teacher must analyze their mistakes, by instructing the one that he must stop and think and the other that such lessons and exercises are given to him to perform as will awaken his attention, excite his interest and stimulate his imagination.

"No one set of facts or methods of education can produce the same results in all classes of students, because they differ widely one from the other by reason of environments or by peculiar and differing susceptibilities. Facts of nature appeal to one person's intellect with an interesting and attractive language while facts conveying historical events alone control the attention of another. Some are readily responsive to personal appeals, while others are impassive thereto, and yet become strangely touched and influenced by singing or some form of instrumental music. The greatest influence, therefore, obtainable over the pupil is by studying and knowing the characteristics of each individual pupil and bringing suitable influence to bear upon them.

Opposes Coercive Education.

"I do not believe in coercive education and any attempt in that direction is always met with opposition, possibly by reason of inborn stubbornness, but more likely on account of a lack of awakening, or an aversion to appear as having been forced. Whatsoever really helpful changes come to a child or a student in the form of impulses, must, by any form of analysis originate from within and the attempt to overcome abnormal conditions by the exercise of power to compel either moral, spiritual or intellectual improvement can have little if any influence in real character building and real education.

"This idea seems to be the governing influence permeating this entire school, for in no other way could such splendid achievements have been produced both in the moral and physical ethics as well as in the practical examples of the theory taught which have been shown me. So that when you go forth as graduates from this school you do not require to be labeled 'This Fable Teaches' so and so, because you have acquired sufficient moral, physical and scientific facts to be teachers among men and to communicate your knowledge to others, by applying practical ethics and practical principals to the practical questions of everyday life.

"I sincerely thank you all for the opportunities afforded me this evening."

Mr. Argo's Address.

After the governor had finished, Superintendent Argo made a brief address in which he said that the success of the school was due to the hearty support received from the people, the legislature, governors, etc., and the fine faculty whose hearts were all in the work, by this very enthusiasm accomplish wonders. He referred to the various gifts that have been made to the institution, among them the W. S. Stratton gift of $25,000, the interest of which is to go in prizes that during his lifetime he gave the blind department for several years; General Palmer's recent gift of land and money for library purposes, he stated, will be of great help to the institution.

The school choir sang the merry chorus, "The Miller's Wooing," after which Rev. Dr. Brown gave the benediction. The graduates and the friends held a reception until after 10 o'clock. The governor was driven to the Santa Fe station where he caught a northbound train for Denver.

Before going the governor stated to members of the board and Superintendent Argo: "I am amazed at what I have seen tonight. Like the rest of the state I have had no idea that such things were being accomplished." There were no deaf pupils graduated this year. There are 140 pupils at the school, 50 of whom are blind. It is the second largest class graduated by the blind department. In 1900 there was a similar number of graduates, five. Among the teachers to whom credit is due to the success of the program last night are Professor H. R. Chapman, who has had entire charge of the members of the graduating class for three years past in the regular High school literary work, Professor A. L. Rohrer and Miss M. C. Churchman, who have had charge of the music, Professor Edwin L. Dietrich, of the violin and orchestra, Miss Jessie Bartol, Miss Myrtle Woodruff, Miss Eliza Todd, who is a member of the class of 1901 of the blind department and R. R. Smith, all instructors.

Their Studies.

The graduates have had three years of Latin, algebra and geometry complete, American and English literature, general history, physics, civil government and other studies similar to the course of the average High school. Many of the graduates of the institution are already well established in business. Plans of the graduates this year are not yet shaped sufficiently to announce definitely what their future occupation in life will be. Miss Fagan will spend some time with Miss Coe at Stonewall and the others will visit relatives and friends in different parts of the state before returning home.

The prizes will be distributed this morning at the chapel. This forenoon the last exercises of commencement will be the occasion of a musicale given by members of the blind department to the friends of the institution. Yesterday the regular board meeting of the trustees was held and the announcement was made that the school will open for next year's work on September 2.

A little incident which marked the close of the school year was the presentation of a memento to Superintendent Argo by several of the deaf pupils. Miss Griffin, a teacher, interpreted the signs of the small boys and girls and as the superintendent received the box he was very much affected. It had been planned very quietly and the speech prepared was warm in its thanks for his kindness.

The Power of Sunlight.

THE USE OF LIGHT IN CURING DISEASE.

THE best disinfectant of all is sunlight. It destroys by its very brightness all sorts of germs and at same time helps the growth of plants and animal life. Doubtless all have noticed that mould grows during the night and in dark, damp cellars. Bright sunlight quickly destroys germs, mould or other organisms. That is why it is best to let the sunlight into your houses for its purifying influence. Not only is sunlight a disinfectant, but it is one of the best surgeons known. It was Finsen who discovered that concentrated sunlight would cure many tumors and cancerous growths. A substitute for sunlight was then found to be still more effective, and that was the concentrated rays from arc lamps.

At the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., Dr. Pierce, chief consulting surgeon, started experiments, some three years ago, with the Finsen light in conjunction with the X-ray in the treatment of diseases. He got excellent results therefrom, and was among the first to adopt this remarkable cure to many cases which it was formerly supposed must of necessity be treated by the knife.

Not only is Dr. R. V. Pierce notable for his surgical achievements at his hospital in Buffalo, but nearly a third of a century ago he discovered certain roots and herbs which were nature's remedies, and succeeded in putting them up in a form that would be easily procured and ready to use. This he called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Along with its use he advises every one to take exercise in the outdoor air, to get all one can of God's sunlight and air; also a mild breathing exercise to be practiced each day. This "Medical Discovery" gives no false stimulation because it contains neither alcohol nor narcotics. It helps digestion and the assimilation of such elements in the food as are required for the blood. Instead of a cod liver oil, against which the already sensitive stomach will declare open rebellion, this tonic has a pacifying action upon the sensitive stomach and gives to the blood the food elements the tissues require. It maintains the patient's nutrition by enabling him to eat, retain, digest and assimilate nutritious food. It overcomes gastric irritability and symptoms of indigestion, and in this way fever, night-sweats, headaches, etc., are done away with. It fortifies the body against the germs of consumption, grip and malaria, and it builds up the tissues and puts on healthy flesh.

A MILLION FOR A STOMACH.

One of the greatest American millionaires said the other day to his physician, "A million dollars, Doctor, spot cash and no grumbling, for a new stomach," and then the sick man groaned and turned away. All his wealth could not make him happy or contented, for happiness largely depends upon digestion. Without health where does happiness come in, and of what use is many millions of dollars, or even one million? One of a man's greatest pleasures is that born of a keen appetite, vigorous digestion and a good dinner, and this belongs to many a good fellow who is living on small wages but is able to buy a beefsteak now and then and have the healthy digestion to assimilate it, but the rich man without a stomach has to forego the juicy steak and the good things of the table because his stomach rebels. After all the stomach plays a great part in everyday life. Without a healthy stomach and a good digestion our blood is thin, watery and poor, our heart action is weak, our liver does not do its duty, and man is miserable and unhappy. In this condition man is prey to the germs of influenza, consumption, malaria and all the ills that flesh is heir to.

Consumption can be treated by natural methods, by methods which are as close to nature as possible. The treatment is brought within the reach of the poorest classes not only in curing the disease in its beginning, but in the prevention of disease by putting the house in order and strengthening the system against the germs of disease. We now understand the cause of consumption, that plague of the earth which, according to the census, kills off twelve of every one hundred inhabitants of the United States.

"I suffered from dyspepsia over five years, during which time I tried everything we could hear of as being recommended for that trouble, but all to no avail, and I was getting worse," writes Mrs. J. H. Oernand, of 2600 Avenue G, Galveston, Texas. "Our family physician gave me medicine, but it was like taking so much water. One year before the storm of 1900, I was taken dangerously ill. Contracted a cold and it settled in my stomach, leaving me with every description of female trouble. I had six of the best physicians in Texas attending me, and all said that I could not live one month without an operation—to which I would not submit; and, as their medicine only served to make me worse, they gave me up to die. I suffered excruciating pain, and when the effect of morphine gave out I would go into convulsions. I was so sore could not move in bed for two months, and when the last doctor gave me up, I sent, through the service of a friend, and purchased a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, also one of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and, after taking four doses I did not need any more morphine—did not feel any more pain; his result after having spent several hundred dollars in doctors' bills and medicine which gave no relief. Four bottles of your medicine has completely cured me."

"I took only four bottles of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and two vials of his 'Pleasant Pellets,' and these remedies did me a world of good," writes W. Walter McGlashen, of Reinbeck, Iowa. "I am thankful for your kind advice and praise the medicines highly. Will recommend Dr. Pierce's medicines to all my friends as the best medicines ever made for the troubles for which they are recommended. There is nothing equal to them for stomach troubles."

NATURE'S BOOK.

Those desiring to know something about the body in health and disease, also medicine and surgery, without technicalities, should read The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, by R. V. Pierce, M. D., which can be had for thirty-one cents in one-cent stamps for the cloth-bound, twenty-one stamps for paper-bound book. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

The Russian navy has been using alcohol motor boats up to 300 horse power with highly satisfactory results.

The Three Problems at Panama.

There are three leading problems in the building of the Panama canal. The first is this great cutting through the Culebra hills. The second problem will be the regulation of the Chagres river, which crosses the canal 21 times. It is a torrential stream, liable to overflow its banks at any time of the year. To obviate this difficulty, a gigantic reservoir will be built near the Culebra cut to hold the overflow of the Chagres and its many tributaries. This dam will be 20 miles long and 200 feet deep; and the foundations of its mighty sea walls will sink into the earth 88 feet deeper than the caissons of the Brooklyn bridge. No such engineering feat has ever been done by man. The third great problem is the question of health. Smallpox and yellow fever have at times broken out at Panama; and this has given the public the impression that these dread pests are indigenous to the isthmus. But this is positively not the case.—(Peter MacQueen in May National.

Base Ball — College Championship

All the News — Athletics Take a Big Jump — Tigers and Boulder Play

[illegible] WILL COACH TIGERS AND GIVE INSTRUCTION IN ATHLETICS

Association Decides to Engage the Man, and Will Endeavor to Have New Director Created at College.

[illegible] special meeting of the [illegible] College Athletic association held last night, E. S. [Merrill, the] new instructor in athletics [at La]wrence university and a [foo]tball player and all-round athlete, was selected to [coach the] football team this fall, [sub]ject to appointment by the board of trustees, to act as instructor of the local [colleg]e. This means that [Merr]ill will come here for the en[tire year] and will take charge of [the base]ball and track teams in [addition] to the football team. [He is] an old Beloit man and [is consid]ered one of the best [athletes] in the middle west.

[Merr]ill has been selected to take [charge of the] department of athletics of [the col]lege. Merrill is the old Be[loit foot]ball and baseball man and all-[round athle]te who is now in charge of [athletic w]ork at the Lawrence univer[sity at Apple]ton, Wisconsin.

[At a spe]cial meeting of the College [Athletic ass]ociation, held in the parlors [of Palmer] hall last night it was de[cided that] Merrill's terms and Mana[ger Hunt] of the football team was [instructed to] wire Merrill the acceptance. [Merrill has] been secured to direct the [athletics of] the local institution during [the entire s]chool year. While no such [action has b]een taken by the board of [trustees of t]he institution, it is considered [probable that] Merrill will be regularly ap[pointed a] member of the faculty and [that the de]partment of athletics will be [created.] This has been looked for[ward to for] some time by the college [and] it is needless to say that the [work of] the Tigers will take a ne[w start.]

[The comin]g of Merrill means much to [the f]ootball eleven this fall. Mer[rill was con]sidered at Beloit as the star [of th]at school's team and his [work in] the game and his playing [were kno]wn to followers of football [in th]e middle west. The material [[illegible]] in sight for this fall is fair [and w]ill behind it, it should place [the Tiger]s gold at the top of the list. [Boul]der, Boulder and Golden [have re]gular football coaches while [the Colo]rado college was denied this privilege owing to unavoidable circumstances. The effect of not having a coach was made evident when the season came to a close. The Athletic association has been working for a coach ever since and now has a good sum in its treasury for a coach's salary.

While the exact terms upon which Merrill has been engaged to come to Colorado college to take charge of its football, baseball and track teams, is not known, it is understood that his desire to come west has led him to make certain concessions that will make his salary far below what it would be at any of the eastern schools. Merrill has wanted to come to Colorado for some time and in a recent letter to President Slocum applied for the position of athletic instructor. Merrill is also a crack baseball player and track man. He is a big, husky fellow, weighing over 200 pounds, and his appearance this fall in a black and gold sweater should create quite an impression.

E. S. MERRILL,
The New Tiger Coach.

Merrill will begin his work with the opening of the fall term in September.

The action of the association last night put an end to all negotiations with Frank Cavanaugh of Dartmouth and the host of other applicants for the place. At the same time that he wires the acceptance of Merrill's terms, Manager Hunt will release Cavanaugh from the contract signed several months ago. Cavanaugh wants to go to Holy Cross so that his release no doubt will be gladly accepted by him.

Among the other men who have applied for the position of coach for the local team are "Slippery" Brown of Lafayette, "Indian" Andrews of Western Reserve, Young of Oberlin, Evans of Ottawa, Kans., and a number of others.

Lawrence university and Miami university of Ohio, are now after Merrill's services. Merrill was signed to play with the St. Louis American league baseball team early in the season but did not continue with the team.

[TIGERS] GAME TO DECIDE CHAMPIONSHIP

[Team]s Will Meet on Neutral [Ground], and Fans Are In[ten]sely Interested.

[Colora]do College Tigers and the [Univers]ity nine will play off the tie [for the] intercollegiate championship [this] morning at Broadway [park]. The management of both [teams s]elected Denver for the game [so that] neither team may have the [advantage of] playing on its own grounds. [A spec]ial will be run from this city and [the] game which promises to [be a g]ood one. Each team has won [[illegible]] and lost two and as a victory [for] both from the Denver uni[versity] the tie is being played off [[illegible]] has one more game in its schedule with Denver university. Boulder won the championship last year and it is needless to say that every effort will be put forth to bring the banner to that school again this season. The Collegians are equally determined to take first place and if the Tigers do not fall down on themselves but play up to their usual form, on the Denver grounds they ought to take the game. A special rate has been made for the trip and a large attendance is assured. The special will leave over the Colorado & Southern at 7:30 o'clock. The teams will line-up as follows:

CAREER OF C. DRYDEN BASEBALL HUMORIST

Among the special writors who give the Philadelphia North American sporting department its distinction none is better known than Charles Dryden.

Mr. Dryden has been called the George Ade of baseball. His humor is as fresh and as spontaneous as that of the famous author of "Fables in Slang." His humorable reports of baseball games are entirely characteristic. Nobody writes like him; nobody gets the same infectious twists and turns of merriment, and none of his imitators has succeeded in reproducing the entirely unforced effect. For the last 15 years Dryden has chosen by himself in this particular branch of newspaper writing.

In 1889 he made his first essay in baseball wit. This was in Chicago. He wrote up a game in imitation of the stilted, archaic phrase of bible language.

Scored Instant Hit.

It scored an instant hit, and in a short time all the prominent papers of the west were bidding for his services. For seven years he stayed west, changing between San Francisco and Tacoma. In 1896, when W. R. Hearst bought the New York Journal, he secured the services of Dryden. When he had been less than a year in the metropolis he had his memorable quarrel with Andrew Freedman. He was shut out of the New York grounds, but kept up a long-distance fire of raillery on the eccentric owner of the Giants and kept not only New York but the entire country convulsed by his clever quips.

In 1900 the North American took a notion that it wanted Dryden to round out its strong staff. Hearst was averse to parting with his crack sporting writer and made him exceptional offers to stay. But the proprietor of the Journal was outbid and Dryden went to Philadelphia. He went back in 1901, and is now under contract for the present season of 1903.

Had Wide Experience.

Mr. Dryden is a newspaper writer of wide experience. He has had a varied career, having from time to time been a sailor, an iron moulder, fisherman and war correspondent. He represented a San Francisco paper in Samoa when the rival kings were fighting for the throne.

Members of College Faculty Deny Reports From Boulder

The faculty and student body of Colorado college are generally indignant at the report sent out by a Boulder correspondent on last Saturday's baseball game between the local players and the State University at Boulder. In the report it is claimed that the college boys were inclined to rowdyism, that Hester purposely ran in front of base runners going to first, and that the chances are that the game would have been protested if Boulder had not won. Members of the college faculty and other people who saw the game declare that the report is without any foundation and that there was no disposition on the part of the Tigers to play other than clean baseball.

It is believed that the report was sent out on account of the kicks that the college boys made after the game in Golden. The Golden people are quick to deny that any dynamite was exploded on the field during the game between the Tigers and the Miners, but the statement of the college boys upon their return to this city is corroborated by correspondents in that city in sending out reports of games that have been played since.

It is stated that the college boys were in last Saturday's game from start to finish and were there to win but that they did not overstep the rules in any way. It is a part of a pitcher's duty to back up his first baseman whenever possible, and he is not required to wait until the runner has passed him to cross the line.

McCoy, Rusie and Sloan, Indiana's Shining Stars

Three of Indiana's greatest stars in the sporting firmament have faded—"Kid" McCoy, Amos Rusie and Tod Sloan. Jack Root decisively retired McCoy at Fort Erie the other night. A few years ago all eyes were focused on the "Kid." He rose steadily after his first real battle and was really one of the sensational performers in the ring. After his bout with Jim Corbett he began to wane.

Just what Tod Sloan is doing now it is hard to tell. One week he report says that he is at the head of a big French company that is manufacturing automobiles, and that it takes seven days to build the money that the company is making. The next week comes a report that Sloan has made application for a license to ride on some track. He is a big promoter today with millions in sight, and is hustling around for a job a few days later.

Whatever Sloan is doing it is altogether probable that never again will he be the idol of the turf world, with wine and women, flowers and diamonds, praise and press notices piled around him. He rode his horses and rode them well, and was entitled to much of the praise that went his way, but for some reason, not satisfactorily explained, he shut his bolt. Statistics used to [illegible] how much Amos Rusie got for every ball he threw. He was the dandy pitcher of the country, and his favorite pastime was standing opposing teams on their heads. And then he got into a legal tangle with the New York club, forgot to keep in condition, lost two years' salary, "blew" what he had in reserve, tried to get back into the game and failed and dropped from the sporting rank into the list of misty has-beens.

He went back to Muncie, Ind., or thereabouts. Press agents tried to boom his game again, and there were many interested in Rusie items that went the rounds. He was tried again on one or two occasions, but the Rusie of old was gone and his page was finally turned for good. The best story was that Rusie had taken to trench digging as a means of getting into condition again, but the fact developed that the star of old was so fat and wide that no ordinary trench could accommodate him.

The latest is that Rusie has gone to Vincennes to manage an independent ball team and that he hopes to show the most wonderful case of modern resurrection. But the story is an old one and it may be that Rusie will not be heard of again for several years.

MANY GOLFERS THINK TRAVIS STILL LEADS

Walter J. Travis is still regarded as the premier golfer in America by the rank and file of amateur devotees of the links. A well-known golfer in speaking of the four-ball match in which Travis and three of the best-known professionals took part, recently said:

"Travis can hold his own day in and day out with any professional in this country, and he is not far behind the best amateur or professional players abroad. The rubber-cored ball has helped him lengthen out his long game, and he was generally up against the long-driving professionals last week, and nine times out of 10 on the flag. He owes much of his success, in fact, to his accuracy, and no player I have seen is a better judge of distance."

Motoring Illustrated speaks of the king's collection of automobiles as "His Majesty's stud of royal daimlers." A straw shows which way the wind is blowing. An automobile derby will be arranged soon.

SPORTING NOTES

"Billy" Malley was in the city yesterday en route to his home in Pueblo, after a two weeks' visit with his mother in Cleveland. Malley is no longer a resident of Colorado Springs, having accepted a position on the Pueblo Chieftain which will keep him in that town. He is in fine condition and is looking for a bout with Morgan Williams in the near future. The fight will in all probability be pulled off before the Rover Athletic club.

It is the intention of Percy P. Cavill, the champion swimmer of Australia, who is now in the city, to organize a water polo team during the coming summer. Mr. Cavill will give a number of aquatic exhibitions at Prospect lake.

Over 100 students last night had declared their intention of going to Denver today to witness the final game between the Boulder and Colorado college nines to decide the championship of the intercollegiate league. The game will be played at Broadway park. No examinations will be held at the college today, in order that everyone may attend.

AROUND THE BASES.

Joe Quinn has released Leffner, his mute twirler, so that "Dummy" Curtis of the local team, is the only delivery artist who can neither hear or speak in the league. Quinn has also released Feeney and Van Dine and is now looking for twirlers.

Grand Rapids, Michigan, parties have purchased the Anderson, Indiana, franchise in the Central league. Anderson has not been supporting the team, hence the change.

Chicago is not the only city which is represented by two clubs that lead in their respective leagues. Los Angeles is first in the Pacific National and Pacific Coast league races.

Denver fans have classed Colorado Springs and Milwaukee by themselves in the Western league race and have relegated the Cubs to a list known as second raters.

A Denver sporting writer in commenting on the appearance of the Millionaires in that town remarked that the locals may have been playing in luck but they did not bring along their rabbit's foot to Denver for the locals were playing ball times.

"Hurrah and hurrah! Bring out the cymbals. Twang the harp and thump the banjo. Let go the steam calliope, and make all the racket possible to show Big Bill Wilson and his ball tossers how pleased we are over the game at Colorado Springs yesterday. Goodness gracious, but it was a slaughter. Just think of it. A total of 11 hits and six runs for our fellows, and only two little tallies for the top-notchers. It was Alloway that twirled the sphere and he had mighty good support from the other members of the team."

This is the effect on a Peoria muse that that one victory the Distillers managed to get out of the series here had.

CASE AGAINST MACHEN.

By Associated Press.

Washington, June 1.—The case of August W. Machen, former general superintendent of the free delivery system of the postoffice department who was arrested on a charge of receiving a percentage of the profits of a concern furnishing supplies to the postoffice department will be presented to the grand jury next Wednesday.

Postmaster General Payne today called attention to the public charge that the amounts paid for rentals of postoffices in New York state exceed what they should be by over $500,000.

"The fact is," he said, "that the total amount of rentals for postoffices in the state last year aggregate only $466,811.83. This includes rentals, light and heating."

DOCTOR-JACK POT STRIKE

Lessees on Second Level Have Opened Up Good Looking Vein —Abe Lincoln Output Now Averages 40 Tons Daily.

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek, June 1.—A rich strike has been opened in an upraise from the second level of the Doctor-Jack Pot ground by lessees who are operating that portion of the estate.

The lessees have only been operating the property a short time, but this morning they encountered a vein that looks exceedingly good. While working on the old Morning Glory vein in an upraise above the second level which is 648 feet from the surface, the strike was made. Some little ore has been encountered right along, but if the present ore body which is some 12 to 18 inches in width, holds out, a fortune will be realized from a few carloads. From rock taken out this morning it is very plain to see that it will run between 1,000 and $2,000 to the ton.

This new find will not be such a great surprise to mining men of the district, as tremendously rich ore has been found in this property before, and on several different occasions. The lessees asked your representative to withhold their names until it is positively known how wide and to what extent the ore strike will reach.

Their lease extends upwards for 300 feet, all virgin ground, and from present appearances, the ore shoot will go that direction. They are now working about 400 feet from the main shaft, where they have about 80 feet of an upraise from the level, breaking into this new ore at the top of the upraise, but it will be several days before the extent of the new find is positively known.

Abe Lincoln Output.

The Abe Lincoln mine in Poverty Gulch at the present time is yielding on an average of 40 tons of ore each day, that runs between three and four ounces to the ton. The big ore shoot which was recently opened in the fifth level south of the shaft, and in the Little territory is still holding out in a remarkable manner, the ore now being broken runs in width from 18 inches to three feet and it all ships between $60 and $80 to the ton. The operators are now working to ascertain the height of the new find, while the best ore in this particular shoot is in the floor of the level, but no winzing has been done yet, to demonstrate whether it extends downward, as the shaft is but 25 feet deeper than this level.

In the same level but southeast of the shaft, the level has been extended out in Little Territory, and what is thought to be the extension of the big ore shoot has been opened, but has not proved satisfactory as yet.

Forty Ton Shipment.

Lessees Ames and Maddigan, operating on the Doctor-Jack Pot property sent out a shipment of 40 tons of ore today, consigned to the Dorcas mill at Florence. The ore was broken in an upraise from the fourth level, and from assays taken, will return values of four ounces to the ton. The lessees expect to nearly double the output this month and they will also commence development work in other parts of the ground under lease.

Declared Dividend.

The Knox Manufacturing and Supply company which is manufacturing a patent bucket dumper, declared an 8-cent dividend today, payable on stock of record June 5, this making the fifth monthly dividend declared by this company. They are owners of the patent of this ore bucket dumper and rent and sell the machines to different mining companies, thereby realizing a handsome dividend from either source.

Cyanide Machinery.

A carload of cyanide machinery was received by Butters and associates of Gillett for their new mill which is now under course of erection on the old Stratton stamp mill site. They expect to have their cyanide plant in operation by the 12th of this month at the latest.

Another large plant of machinery is also being installed near the summit of Rhyolite mountain, where the operators expect to commence sinking immediately, the company having a good showing in a compact vein, where values have increased with depth. With the installation of this plant, sinking will be pushed nearly five times as fast and much more satisfactorily.

Sitting Bull Claim.

Lessees Klinzy and Sax, operating under lease on the Sitting Bull claim, will send out a shipment of two carloads Wednesday that will run in the neighborhood of 15 ounces to the ton.

Sublessees Lewis and Allen, operating on the same property sent out a shipment yesterday of 20 tons of ore with three-ounce values.

COLORADO SPRINGS MINING STOCK EXCHANGE

C. K. & N. COMPANY DISTRIBUTES DIVIDEND

The C. K. & N. company yesterday distributed the regular dividend of one cent per share and amounting to $14,319. The total distribution to date amounts to $42,057. The secretary is sending out a statement of the affairs of the company showing the amount of royalties received and the condition of the property. The treasury fund is sufficiently large to pay another dividend of the same amount and have a good surplus left over, and it is expected that at the next distribution time there will be a large treasury surplus.

INSTALLING PLANT ON WAR EAGLE LEASE

The Gold Cord Mining & Smelting company is arranging to install a heavy plant of machinery on the War Eagle lease on Bull hill in the Cripple Creek district. It is proposed to put in air drills and to push the development work with a heavy hoisting plant. A streak of good ore was found at a depth of 100 feet and it is calculated that with additional depth the streak will develop into a good body of ore.

EASTERN MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.
By Associated Press.

New York, June 1.—The stock market was still under pressure today in spite of some resistance by the speculative leaders, notably St. Paul. The movements in this stock recently have almost served to dominate the market so that its firmness today naturally had some effect on interest. Its effect was modified however by the patent fact that selling was going on elsewhere under this cover and also by the assertion that a large bear was taking profits on the long decline in St. Paul by covering short contracts for many thousand shares. Short covering was also reported in Rock Island but with less effect. Bad reports of floods affected Rock Island and had a growing influence on the operations in the Missouri Pacific, Atchison and Union Pacific. There is evidence of some slight demand on concessions and there is much current discussion of the investment return offered by dividend paying stocks on the declining range of prices. But the pressure to sell is renewed on any advance as was evidenced in the case of St. Paul. The same thing was apparent on the rally in Amalgamated Copper which showed some evidence of support. There were some feverish rallies just at the close which had more resemblance to urgency on the part of the shorts than anything that has appeared during the current decline. Bonds were heavy in sympathy with stocks. Total sales, par value, $1,440,000.

U. S. bonds were all unchanged.

Parasites Cause All Hair Troubles.

Nine-tenths of the diseases of the scalp and hair are caused by parasitic germs. The importance of this discovery by Professor Unna of the Charity hospital, Hamburg, Germany, can not be overestimated. It explains why ordinary hair preparations, even of the most expensive character, fail to cure dandruff, because they do not, and they can not kill the dandruff germ. The only hair preparation in the world that positively destroys the dandruff parasites that burrow up the scalp into scales called scurf or dandruff, is Newbro's Herpicide. In addition to its destroying the dandruff germ Herpicide is also a delightful hair dressing, making the hair glossy and soft as silk.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. Hefley-Arcular Drug Co. and Robinson Drug Co. special agents.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY'S BILL NOT PRESENTED YESTERDAY

The fee bill of the district attorney's office did not come before the board of county commissioners yesterday. The bill should have come before the commissioners yesterday with the other monthly bills. It is necessary, however, that it should be passed upon by County Attorney H. L. Chambers, before being submitted to the board. Assistant District Attorney Black said yesterday evening that he had not yet completed some of the details of the bill, but would do so today and hand it to Mr. Chambers. It will then probably come before the board for action today or tomorrow.

The other bills of the month were read and allowed yesterday. All the bills which are paid by the county commissioners were passed upon, among them being the bills for work connected with the parking and the laying of sidewalks around the court house building.

REMAINS WERE INTERRED WITH MASONIC CERMONY

The services over the remains of Walter B. Wilson, the well-known mining man who died at his home, 417 East San Rafael street, Saturday, were held yesterday afternoon at the residence. Rev. L. C. Hills of the Presbyterian church officiating. Interment was made at Evergreen cemetery, the Masonic burial ritual being used. The deceased was an honored member of the Masonic order. The funeral was largely attended by mining men and other prominent citizens.

TENT CITY BAND WILL ARRIVE TODAY

The Tent City band, the famous musical organization of Coronado Beach, California, is expected to arrive in this city early this morning over the Santa Fe, coming up from Pueblo. A free street parade and a concert in North park will be given during the day, followed by a lecture by A. A. Weiss of Cincinnati, who accompanies the band on its tour of the country. The band consists of 20 musicians, who are traveling over the country for the purpose of advertising the glories of the California climate. The members of the organization are traveling in a special car.

MANITOU WILL HAVE SUMMER BAND CONCERTS

A band stand is being erected at Manitou across the creek from the terminus of the street railway line and just above the soda spring. The location is nearly the same as last year. It is expected that there will be band concerts several times a week, as soon as the season for tourists opens. The first concert may be held next week, although the exact date has not yet been decided upon, depending largely on the state of the weather and the number of tourists in the vicinity.

WORK STARTED ON BIG POWER PLANTS

Work was started yesterday morning on the power plants to be erected by the Pike's Peak Hydro-Electric company on Ruxton creek, above Manitou. Thirty men and several teams started excavating and within the next few days the force will be materially increased. The plant upon which work has been started is the large plant, both plants and pipe line to cost in the neighborhood of $1,000,000. The orders for the equipment have been placed and it is expected the plants will be ready for operation in October unless there are delays in furnishing the machinery.

DEATH OF MISS FRENCH WHO FORMERLY LIVED HERE

"On Sunday afternoon occurred the funeral of Miss Bess Foster French, who passed to the other side Thursday, May 7, aged 37 years and four months. The large gathering of relatives and friends at the beautiful home attested to the esteem in which she was held. There was a wealth of floral offerings, and in her beautiful pearl-covered casket she seemed sleeping in a bed of flowers. As we looked down at the still face we could but question why she was called in her early womanhood. Yet she had lived a full life, one that remains a pleasant memory in the hearts of her friends. In her home she was a benediction; as a teacher she was an inspiration to high ideals; as a friend she was loyal. There was always a purity of tone associated with her that inspired to higher living. With cheerfulness she battled with the fatal disease that claimed her for a victim with no murmuring word, but with the faith that said, 'Either way is all right.'"

The above taken from the Granite State Free Press published at Lebanon, N. H., brings sorrow to friends in this city in announcing the death of Miss Bess Foster French, who for the past four years of her life was a resident of Colorado Springs. Miss French represented a branch of the same family from which sprang also the celebrated sculptor, Daniel Chester French, and was herself a painter of marked ability; her sketches of life in Mexico and Lone-club being of unusual interest. Delicate and failing health during her residence here restricted her work and caused her to lead a quiet and secluded life; but to those privileged to know her she was endeared by a brilliant and versatile mind, remarkable sweetness, grace and charm of manner pervaded by a spirit of such beauty and nobility that one could not come in contact with her and not feel uplifted and purified.

BENEFIT SALE FOR WORKING GIRLS' HOME

The Frances Willard Home for Working Girls has been moved to the building at 619 South Nevada avenue, known as the Mountain View home. In these more commodious quarters it is expected that the usefulness of the home may be increased. All working women out of employment or those on small wages may find here a safe and respectable lodging at small cost. To help pay the expense incidental to removal the board of the home will hold a rummage sale at the new home next Friday and Saturday. Articles for this sale are solicited and may be left at the home.

COMIC OPERA SEASON BEGINS NEXT MONDAY

Next Monday evening "Said Pasha" will be presented at the Opera house by the Casino Comic Opera company and the performance will mark the opening of the first season of summer opera in Colorado Springs. Although the opening of the season has been delayed for a few days, the delay will only serve to perfect the work of the cast which has been carefully selected by Manager Rogers. "Said Pasha" is a popular light opera, but a number of other musical comedies are included in the repertoire of the company. Among these are "Fra Diavolo," "Pinafore," "Cavalleria Rusticana," and the "Mikado," all of which will probably be produced. The costuming will be done by a Denver house, the costumes and much of the scenery being made to order. Following is the caste for "Said Pasha":

Said Pasha	Leslie Stowe
Hassan Bey	Victor Clement
Terano	W. H. Ralston
Hadad	E. C. Rogers
Nockey	Leon Chaney
Balsho	A. E. Achard
Tik-Hadad	Fred Schneider
Musti	Walter Harmer
Noondi	M. Rider
Serena	Miss Day
Altie	Miss Clyde Robertson
Rajah Sojah	Miss Pfeil
Senlor	Miss Schneider
Puni	Miss Bonnie

Chorus—The Misses Bell, Boyce, Bonnie, Schneider, Atkins, Chisholm, Robertson, May, McElroy, Bannington, Davis and Pfeil; Messrs. Arnold, Armour, Davis, Rider, Pollock, Schneider and Achard.

SERIES OF REVIVALS AT THE CUMBERLAND PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The revival services commenced at the Cumberland Presbyterian church Sunday by the pastor, Rev. Herbert A. Jones and will be continued through the week. Last night there was quite a large attendance, and great interest was manifested by the congregation. The subject was the message of the glorified Christ to the church of Ephesus. The speaker described the grandeur and wealth of the ancient city, and the power of the early Christian church. It had for its pastors Apollos, Paul, John, Timothy, Crysostom and for 200 years it was the metropolitan church. Yet they "left their first love" and Christ removed the candlestick—church and city passed away—so when either the individual or the congregation lose their loyalty and zeal they are cast aside for others more deserving and worthy.

MUSICAL CLUB HOLDS RECEPTION FOR GOLDMARK

The Colorado Springs Musical club held a delightful reception yesterday afternoon, beginning at 4:30 o'clock, complimentary to Mr. Rubin Goldmark.

The event occurred in the home of Mrs. J. A. Tucker on North Weber street. Mrs. Tucker was assisted in receiving by Mrs. F. A. Faust, president of the Musical club. GOLD WILL CARRY ON VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN

The members of the "Gold" side of the Y. M. C. A. membership contest met last night in the building and decided to carry on a rigorous campaign during the remainder of the time allotted.

As the record now stands the "Gold" side has but 112 points, while 218 points stand to the credit of the "Red." It is thought that the contest will end June 5, so these last days will be strenuous ones.

The "Pink" division of the Woman's auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. membership contest will meet today at 4 p. m. in the boys' parlors.

The Young Men's congress will meet this evening in the boys' parlor. As usual a spirited debate will be conducted and young men are especially invited.

Jefferson Saw the Point.

Joseph Jefferson, the actor, is very sensitive on the subject of his retirement from the stage. He has been before the footlights since a small child, and he has never shown any desire to leave it. The interviewer who puts the question of farewell to him gets a rather sharp but pleasant reply, but a reporter in the south recently got the best of him. The actor came down stairs at the hotel one morning and was much disturbed to find a long but mysteriously worded article in which the word retired was closely connected with his name. He knew the managing editor and made a half-hearted complaint. The reporter was called in and asked where he got the story.

"The city editor told me to see Mr. Jefferson," said the young man, "and ask him if he was going to retire."

"Well, did you see him?" said the editor.

"No, sir," said the reporter, "I sent up my card to his room and it was sent back with this written on it:

"'Mr. Jefferson has retired.'"

And then the actor who sleeps 20 years in every performance took the reporter out and bought him a $5 hat.—(New York Times.

INSPECTORS APPOINTED BY MINE COMMISSIONER

In Addition to M. J. McCarthy of Victor, H. A. Canning of Aspen and G. W. Schneider of Central City Have Been Given Positions --Trouble in Adams County.

Special to the Gazette.

Denver, June 1.—Today Lyman J. White, state commissioner of mines, formally announced his appointments of mine inspectors for the three districts created by the last general assembly. M. J. McCarthy of Victor, a man of 30 years' experience in mining, is named as inspector for district No. 1, including the counties of Teller, Fremont, Custer, Saguache, Rio Grande, Mineral, El Paso, San Juan, Pueblo, Huerfano, La Plata, Montezuma, Costilla, Conejos and Archuleta. H. A. Canning of Aspen, will be inspector for district No. 2. The counties in this district are Lake, Park, Summit, Eagle, Pitkin, Delta, Montrose, Mesa, Ouray, Gunnison, San Miguel, Dolores, Chaffee, Hinsdale and Garfield. In district No. 3 G. W. Schneider of Central City will be inspector. His counties will be Gilpin, Clear Creek, Boulder, Jefferson, Douglas, Weld, Larimer, Grand, Routt, Rio Blanco.

School Graduations.

The commencement exercises of the several Denver High schools will be held during the present week. The ceremonies marking the close of the school year and the launching upon the sea of life of the senior classes of the several institutions, take place Thursday.

Graduating classes from the High schools of Denver are this year larger than usual. East Denver High school will send out a class of 120; The Manual Training High school, 80; West Denver, 65; North Denver, 8, and South Denver 8. The growth of the East Denver High school has been most marked during the 30 years of its existence. The first class was graduated in 1876, and numbered eight members. The school now has an alumni of 2,000. The history of this one school is an index of the educational expansion of the capital city of Colorado.

Trouble in Adams County.

It is almost certain that the county officers of Adams county will shortly be removed by Governor Peabody if the chief executive finds that he has the power to so do. There has been great friction in the new county and the governor has been the target for numerous protests against the continuance in office of his recent appointees, and it was today alleged that he would dispose of the matter by making a clean sweep. Fred Watts, recently convicted of maladministration and negligence in office as commissioner of Arapahoe county, is said to be the first of those slated for removal, although powerful influences are at work in his behalf.

Foreign Corporations.

The supreme court has decided that foreign corporations doing business in Colorado must comply with the laws of the state, governing domestic companies. A decision was handed down today in the case of the Iron Silver Mining company against Secretary of State Cowie. This corporation was formed under the laws of New York, its articles of incorporation being filed March 4, 1880. The laws of Colorado provide that the existence of a corporation shall be for only 20 years. The company's New York charter provided for a term of existence of 50 years. March, 1900, the secretary of state refused to receive the report of the officers of this company, until it had renewed its charter. Thereupon a suit was brought by the company to compel the secretary of state to acknowledge its corporate existence.

Judgment Affirmed.

The supreme court this morning affirmed the judgment of the district court of Fremont county in the case of George E. Mow and S. T. McCoy, convicted of murder in the second degree. The men were found guilty of killing Charles J. Withers, in December of 1901.

Charter Election.

The contest for the selection of delegates to the charter convention, which will be concluded at the polls tomorrow, has developed considerable bitterness, and it is expected that this will culminate in disturbances during the progress of the election. Both the civic federation and the adherents of the three opposition tickets are working strenuously for success, and each tonight accuses the other of intent to commit fraud. Chief of Police and Sheriff Armstrong has issued a statement that any irregularities or disturbances at the polls will be rigorously suppressed. The Republicans are accusing the police of opening workings for the success of the Civic ticket. Both parties tonight profess entire confidence.

Miners' Convention.

Today at the convention of the Western Federation of Miners, the matter of the recent mill strike at Colorado City was brought before the delegates by the presentation of the report of the committee on strikes and lockouts, and by the report of John Murphy, attorney for the federation. These two reports present the facts in the case diametrically opposite to the conclusion arrived at by the governor's advisory board, which submitted its report Saturday. The miners are prepared to make peremptory demands and the whole unfortunate controversy is liable to be reopened. The report of the committee on strikes and lockouts as presented today is substantially as follows:

First, that former conditions have not been restored as per agreement.

Second, that the same conditions should prevail at the Standard mill as are now extant at the Portland and Telluride mills. The report further recommends that the conditions which it is claimed were agreed to by Manager MacNeill be enforced if it is necessary in doing so to call out every man in the state.

Tomorrow afternoon the miners will unite with the delegates of the Western Labor union in a discussion of the industrial questions affecting both of the organizations.

Bishop Matz of the Roman Catholic church in a sermon yesterday roundly condemned socialism, and the attitude of the churchman has greatly perturbed the members of the two labor organizations, each of which is so largely tinctured with socialistic ideas. Today the Western Labor union convention appointed a committee to find out just what the head of the Roman church in Colorado meant by his utterances, and the report of this committee tomorrow will undoubtedly stir up considerable bitterness.

BISHOP MATZ' SERMON.

Denver, June 1—At the Logan Avenue cathedral yesterday morning Bishop N. C. Matz delivered a scathing sermon against the affiliation of labor unions with the cause of socialism. He quoted from a recent newspaper the announcement that American Labor union had embraced Socialism as a principal of their organization. He criticised the recent utterances of President Moyer of the Western Federation of Miners and decried in severe terms the recognition of Socialism by those organizations.

The bishop said:

"There has lately come into the civilized state a dangerous dogma. Its teachers are marching forward with a force that is spreading discontent and dissatisfaction in its way, and threatens to destroy all law and order."

He defined the doctrine of socialism saying that it included the reduction of private property to ownership of the state. It was, he said, to all intents, another name for stealing.

In the Catholic church, he added, the clergy practiced a system nearly allied to socialism, and but few could live the life successfully.

"How much less could the average mortal be expected to carry out the dream of socialism. As long as mankind were frail and swayed by strong passions, there could be no realization of this utopian fancy.

"The Catholic church has always been the champion of labor. Christ's father was a carpenter. All through his life he was surrounded and assisted by laborers. Peter was a fisherman. The other apostles were workmen.

"The Catholic church saved labor, when she rescued them from the old Pagan slavery; and again later by instructing them in the guilds, which the church established to teach the skilled trades to the laboring people.

"She is ready and will save labor the third time, but only on condition that the result is accomplished through the church.

"The Catholic church never had any opposition to labor unions so long as their efforts to better their condition had been confined within legitimate limits. Beyond that the church places the ban upon unions, as well as upon combinations of capital which overreach the limits of justice."

Continuing, the bishop identified the socialist with the revolutionist, and said: "Whenever he thrives, destruction to law and order follows. The final consequence is that he destroys himself." Labor was warned that its destruction would surely follow its affiliation with socialism.

A HEAVY SNOW FALL IN TELLER COUNTY

Eight Inches Fell in Cripple Creek --Two Feet Reported in Bison Park.

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek, June 1—A report came in from Bison park today that a bear driven out by the heavy fall of snow which fell to a depth of nearly two feet in that vicinity has paid a visit to the corral belonging to Smith & Thorpe, who have the contract for rip-rapping the Victor Water company's dam, and killed a valuable horse.

A party coming in from the camp claims that the bear tracks could be plainly seen this morning, and further evidence was before the settlers, this being in the conflict which had taken place between the bear and the horse. It is claimed that the bear ate a portion of the horse, and tried to drag the carcass away, but the board fence on the corral prevented him.

The snowstorm was so heavy in this vicinity that the tents in which the workmen employed on the dam slept, were borne to the ground.

Tom Dyer Sentenced.

Thomas Dyer, who was recently convicted in the district court of burglary and larceny, was today sentenced to from one to two years in the state penitentiary at Canon City by Judge Seeds. Dyer belonged to one of the toughest gangs that ever infested this district and was convicted of having burglarized a house in Independence. Sheriff Robertson will leave in the morning for Canon City accompanied by Dyer.

Trains Discontinued.

L. R. Ford, president and traffic manager of the Midland Terminal railroad, issued a notice today that all suburban trains on the Midland Terminal railroad will be discontinued after today, except the train leaving Cripple Creek at 7 a. m. for Cameron and intermediate points, and the train leaving Cameron at 4:35 p. m. for Cripple Creek. This means that over 20 trains a day on this line will be taken off.

Heavy Snow Fall.

Cripple Creek was visited with an eight-inch fall of snow late last night and early this morning, and overcoats were in demand today.

The snow melted fast and few traces of the heavy fall were discernible tonight, except in the surrounding hills, where the snow will lie for several days.

The street supervisor of this city was kept busy today with a large-sized force of men, getting rid of the water and mud, but owing to the recent repairing of all the flumes, the water was carried off the principal streets with ease.

NEW BASEBALL PARK FOR VICTOR

Special to the Gazette.

Victor, June 1.—A surveying party is out working on the Lawrence townsite, platting a new ball park for Victor. Several prominent business men are back of the scheme. They figure on expending between $6,000 and $8,000 in fixing up the grounds and building a fence and grandstand. It is figured to have the park ready for the ball games within 30 days at the outside.

Judge Huff, department commander of the G. A. R. of Colorado and Wyoming, residing in this city, received a telegram this afternoon from President Roosevelt. The telegram expresses the president's appreciation for the manner in which Memorial day was observed in Colorado and Wyoming.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES AT THE STATE UNIVERSITY.

Boulder, June 1.—The baccalaureate sermon, the first of the commencement exercises at the State university, was preached yesterday by President James H. Baker. TRAGIC DEATH OF DR. JAMES IN LEADVILLE.

Leadville, June 1.—Dr. B. F. James was found last night in a dying condition, on a dump near the old Harrison reduction works. Dr. James has been in a bad condition for some time, but was thought to be some better. He escaped from his room in his night clothing and with nothing on his feet, and wandered about until exhausted. He then sank down on the dump and was found by some miners. Medical aid was summoned, but he died shortly after he was found. He leaves a divorced wife and a daughter at Butte, Mont. He was very well known at Denver and in Butte, Mont., and has been a very brilliant man in his day.

PUEBLO SUIT SETTLED.

Pueblo, June 1.—The lawsuit entitled Glenn versus Kinkel which has been watched with so much interest by Pueblo people, has been settled at last, the verdict of Judge Voorhees being in favor of the plaintiff. Mr. Kinkel will be forced to move his newly-erected terrace several inches back, so that it will not cut off the light from the windows of Mr. Glenn. The two men have long been neighbors and friends and the suit has been particularly unfortunate, and much bitterness on both sides has been caused.

RAIN AT TRINIDAD.

Trinidad, June 1.—Rain fell here all last night, thoroughly soaking the ground. This will prove a boon to cattle and sheep raisers, as the grass will spring up wonderfully as a result of the moisture. The race track will probably be in bad condition, but if the rain clears off, the races will be pulled off on schedule time.

The city's water supply last night came from the clouds alone, the water main being torn up for the purpose of relaying in a new place. The work will probably not be completed before Wednesday and in the meantime the city is without water in case of fire.

SEVERAL PROPERTIES IN ARIZONA CLOSED DOWN

By Associated Press.

Prescott, Ariz., June 1.—The eight-hour law passed by the last legislature went into effect in this territory today. Mine owners and operators in Yavapai county adopted 10 days ago the scale of wages which they are willing to pay for eight hours work. The scale is higher rate per hour than has been previously paid on the basis of 10 hours a day, but is not acceptable to a large number of miners.

Several properties are reported to have closed down today and there are rumors that others will close down, but definite news of the result will not be obtainable for two or three days. A few days will develop whether a general strike will occur or not.

The invitation was extended personally to Malcolm Gillis, chairman of the committee of the Silver Bow Trades and Labor association which entertained the president and to Frank Boyle, president of that body.

By Associated Press.

Omaha, June 1.—President Burt of the Union Pacific railroad today had a preliminary conference with 20 leaders representing 1,200 machinists who struck a year ago for an increased wage schedule and against the piece work system. Those present besides the national officers of the machinists' union were representatives from Kansas City, Cheyenne, Evanston, Denver, Rawlins, North Platte, Columbus and Omaha. The machinists are officially represented in the conference by the national executive board composed of Hugh Doran, chairman; Chicago; M. J. Ford, New York; E. L. Tucker, Washington; H. F. Garrett, Atlanta and James A. Reynolds, Cleveland.

The machinists officials refused to discuss the issues but stated that it was a peace conference and that they expected a settlement to result from their meeting with the railroad officials.

The disease, on account of its mild form, was at first taken for chicken pox and children attended school and their parents attended church and dances while suffering from the disease. The health officers believe nearly every family living in that section of the city has been exposed and steps are being taken to quarantine the entire ward. A house to house fumigating campaign is being carried on, and all public gatherings have been prohibited.

RAILROADS CHARGED WITH VIOLATION OF AN ORDER

By Associated Press.

Los Angeles, June 1.—Judge Welborn of the United States circuit court today handed down a decision in which he practically finds that the railroad companies having lines in southern California having been violating the routing order of the interstate commerce commission which was to have taken effect June 20, 1902. The decision is an overruling of the demurrer of the Southern Pacific and the Santa Fe Railroad companies to the suit filed against them some time ago by the Consolidated Forwarding company and the Southern California Fruit exchange alleging that the order of the supreme court had been violated. An appeal will probably be taken. Thirty days' time is allowed the companies to make answer.

In his decision Judge Welborn holds that the shipper of fruit has the right to choose his own routes to eastern points and that each must have equal rights under the railroad rates which, however, must be constantly open for the use of the public. The court is of the opinion that there is in existence a pool between the railroad and the consenting link and that some shippers have been discriminated against to the advantage of others. The judgment of the interstate commerce commission prior to the issuance of the order was an adjudication of fact, no finding being conclusive as against the demurrers, and that the routing rule as established by the railroads was for the purpose of operating a pool.

STRIKE IN PHILADELPHIA.

By Associated Press.

Philadelphia, June 1.—A strike of textile workers was inaugurated in this city today, involving about 90,000 operatives. Of the 600 firms engaged in the textile industry here 47 have granted the demands of the union and their plants, employing about 15,000, are in operation. All of the 81 ingrain carpet mills are idle affecting directly 7,000 weavers, and 40,000 hands in other departments. All of the dyers who are said to control the situation, are on strike with the exception of those of the Berkshire mills in the northeastern section of the city which has conceded the 55-hour week and increased the wages of the men from $12 to $13 a week.

The ingrain carpet weavers are asking besides the 55-hour week a 10 per cent increase in wages.

The mill of John and James Dobson, employing 2,000 hands, was closed indefinitely today. The workmen were notified that they could return to work at the present rate of wages. Otherwise the mill would remain closed.

Thirty-nine branches of the textile trade are affected by the strike and the capital invested in the mills is estimated at $100,000,000. The daily loss in wages will amount to $125,000.

A member of the manufacturers executive committee said: "The large manufacturers are a unit almost in opposing the demands of the employes to the extent of keeping their mills shut for a year if necessary, and as this is the decision there is no particular need of making any move."

Mr. Graves wanted to know how about the facts of the alleged offer by Chas. W. Clark, son of Senator Clark, to pay Judge Harney $250,000 for certain purposes and of the attempted impeachment of Judge Harney by two attorneys of the company.

[illegible] THE COUNCIL DID LAST NIGHT

[illegible]

Complete Report of the Deliberations of the City Fathers—Much Business Was Transacted.

[illegible] all the employes of the water department were made special policemen at last night's meeting of the city council, by their appointment by Mayor Harris. [illegible] appointments were made at the request of Water Commissioner [illegible] Davis. [illegible] the now appointed [illegible] Sykes, assistant superintendent, J. H. Gardner, H. T. [illegible], Thomas Rice, George Long and Z. P. Martin.

The selection of the building inspector was again laid over on motion of Alderman R. J. Vern[illegible]. He explained that a number of those who had failed in the examinations were contending that they had passed, and were demanding their papers for the purpose of learning the method of marking.

[illegible] meeting was called to order at [illegible] hour with all members present. The first business taken up was a petition from the sisters of St. Francis [illegible], asking that they be allowed [illegible] water free of charge for the [illegible] of the addition to the hospital in course of construction. The [illegible] was placed on file. Communications were received from the real estate exchange and from the chamber of commerce, asking that ordinances relating to the obstruction of the sidewalks be strictly enforced. The communications mentioned the existence of platforms, signs and other obstructions. [illegible] also asked that the ordinance requiring weeds in the streets and on lots to be cut, be enforced. They were referred to the street committee. A communication from the fire department, requiring certain supplies was referred to the fire committee. Three new fire alarm boxes will be installed under the recommendation of the committee and several thousand feet of hose purchased.

A communication was received from E. E. Teaps, offering to collect the city dog taxes for the surplus over $1,200. This was the amount collected by the city last year but the cost of the canvass amounting to nearly $200, left a balance of only $1,000. Teaps offers to do all the advertising and furnish a list of the dogs in the city for future use, and turn in $1,200 net. The proposition was referred to the finance committee. A communication was received from P. E. Anderson, 327 Victoria street, asking that the city remove certain obstructions from the street in front of his house. It was referred to the street committee.

Regarding Street Sprinklers.

A communication was also received from D. L. Macaffree, superintendent of the Colorado Springs and Interurban Railway company, objecting to the use of the city sprinkler on the ground that the water washed the gravel away from the rails, leaving them exposed. The communication warned the city that any injury that might result from such exposed rails would have to be borne by the city, and advised that some action be taken to prevent the washing away of the gravel. The communication was referred to the street committee.

On motion of Alderman Dunbar the contract for the construction of the sewer extension was awarded to the Gilmore Plumbing company at a figure of $10,144.56. It is probable however that the bids for this work may have to be readvertised for. The representative of the successful bidder refuses to sign any other bond than that which accompanied the specifications, and City Attorney Sheafor refuses to approve it. It is said that the bid is so close that the slightest of a greater bond would result in loss to the Gilmore company. The next bid to that of the Gilmore company was that of C. P. Quinlan, which was submitted at $11,238.80. The construction of the conduits on Cucharas street and Nevada avenue was awarded to L. Hart & Son on a bid of $2.63 a lineal foot.

Bids were opened for the construction of the police patrol system. Two bids were received, one from the Gamewell company and the other from John A. Voorhees, ex-city treasurer. The former company offered to install six boxes with all telephone connections at the amount of the appropriation, $2,000. Voorhees offered to install 10 stations of simpler order than that used by the Gamewell company for $2,795. No vote was taken on the question, and the matter was referred to the police committee. The bids for the construction of a barn for the sewer department were withdrawn and the city clerk directed to readvertise on account of a mistake in the first advertisement.

Revision of Ordinances.

Under the head of reports of committees a resolution was introduced by Chairman Dunbar of the finance committee providing for the revising and recompiling of the city ordinances, and the appointment by the mayor of some one to do the work at a salary of not to exceed $100 a month. This work has been in contemplation by the council for some time. At present the city ordinances are compiled regardless of the departments to which they relate. The revision is for the purpose mainly of getting the laws properly arranged, as well as adding the laws that have been passed since the present volume was printed. Chairman St. John of the water committee reported an improved condition of the water system, as a result of the recent rains, and said that the water commissioner had completed the opening of the McShane ditch, which was now carrying water across Dead Lake divide into Lake Moraine. Upon his request all the members of the council, the mayor and city engineer, will take a trip over the water system Thursday. The party will start out in the morning and make a complete survey.

Chairman Holden of the cemetery committee urged the laying of the proposed water pipe into the cemetery and asked the opinion of City Attorney Sheafor relative to the right to borrow the sum needed on a registered warrant, from the cemetery endowment fund. The city attorney said he did not believe the city could properly make such a transaction. The question was referred to the cemetery committee and city attorney for a report at the next meeting. On motion the cemetery committee was instructed to provide for care of the G. A. R. grounds at the cemetery.

Adopted and Rejected.

The ordinance establishing the bond of the city treasurer at $150,000 passed. The telephone ordinance was reported unfavorably by the ordinance committee and the committee report adopted. The matter of the selection of the building inspector was postponed to the next meeting. Reports were received from Fire Chief E. E. Baty, showing that there had been 14 alarms turned in during the month, two of which were false and that the fire loss for the month had been $[illegible] from City Physician P. O. Hanford, showing 60 births and 85 deaths during the month. The death rate for the month is mentioned as 14.40, exclusive of tuberculosis, 9.2. Contagious diseases reported during the month 10, pounds of meats and vegetables condemned 3,712. The report of the plumbing inspector showed 86 permits issued during the month. The city engineer reported having received $22, the building inspector $164, and the police magistrate $138.70, in fees during the month. Salaries were allowed to a total of $17,288.20, covering all the city departments. Adjournment was declared at 10 o'clock till Monday evening, June 15.

firm bought up all the potatoes in town last Saturday and advanced the price 50 cents a bushel. It will be at least a week before freight trains from the east can enter Topeka and perhaps longer, but an effort will be made to secure a stock of provisions from the smaller towns.

Relief Train Arrived.

It was learned tonight that a Rock Island relief train had reached North Topeka last night in the vicinity of the Reform school. The train brought 80 boats and two steam launches. Experienced boatmen are in charge and are doing splendid work in taking flood victims to places of safety. The chief of police at St. Joseph and eight officers accompanied the train.

A long train of Rock Island passenger cars was also brought in and these coaches will be placed at the disposal of the sufferers. The cars will be taken to places further up the track, some to Atchison and others to St. Joseph, where the refugees will be provided for. W. O. Neville, chief clerk in the office of the Rock Island general superintendent reports his observations as follows:

"For miles looking to the north there was nothing but water. Our relief trains succeeded in getting in on the north side of the city near the reform school. "Miles of the Rock Island tracks are washed out and much of the remaining track is up on end. It will be a week before we can get trains into Topeka. Three trainloads of material for rebuilding the tracks have been sent from Chicago."

The Santa Fe road is making an extraordinary effort in behalf of the sufferers. The facilities of their shops here are at the disposal of those wishing to make a steam launch or other machinery for rescue. The officers have caused a pumping apparatus to be constructed and they are now sending a supply of water through the mains in the east portion of the city. People of Topeka have responded loyally to the calls for supplies. Up to the present time the relief committee has had no trouble to supply what clothes are necessary and fed all hungry. Further than this no steps have been taken.

The people are not permitted to stay at the Auditorium any longer than is necessary. As soon as they are brought in and given dry clothing most of them are sent to the houses of South Side residents.

WAR DEPARTMENT IS AIDING FLOOD SUFFERS

By Associated Press.

Washington, June 1.—The war department is exerting its full powers and going to the extreme warrant of the law in aiding the flood sufferers in the west. Putting aside all technical questions as to the power of the department to move in the matter without violating the law prohibiting the expenditure of government supplies without direct order of congress, Acting Secretary Sanger has assumed full responsibility for the extension of relief where this is necessary to save human life and if necessary congress will be asked later to approve this exercise of authority.

By direction of the department the military officers in the distressed region will not only provide tents to shelter the homeless but will be allowed to use their judgment as to the issue of such military supplies and rations as can be spared. It is expected that judgment will be shown in the issue of these rations and that there will be no wholesale and indiscriminate support of entire communities. In addition to this General Gillespie, chief of engineers has not only authorized the use of all boats and pontoons at the river and harbor works within reach of the flooded sections to save life and property, but upon his inquiry Major Leech, the engineer officer in charge of Fort Leavenworth has stated that he can very soon build 1,200 feet of pontoon bridging and this will be transported as quickly as possible to places where it is needed to open communication.

"Some time ago I was troubled with an illness of the stomach and spent lots of money in buying so-called catarrh medicines and paying doctors' bills. Peruna was recommended to me by a friend and after taking a few bottles, I am happy to say that I am entirely well. [illegible]
